City Manager Message

It's budget planning time again, and this month I am proud to recognize our Finance Department for the great work they do in putting our budget together each year, and congratulate them for their recent awards and honors.

Earlier this month the Finance Department, under the leadership of Chief Financial Officer Jeff Wood, received the Distinguished Budget Award for FY 2023, an honor they have earned for five years in a row now. To receive the budget award, the City had to satisfy nationally recognized guidelines for effective budget presentation. These guidelines are designed to assess how well an entity's budget serves as a policy document, financial plan, operations guide, and communications device. In addition, the department was awarded the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting for FY2021, which they have received for the last 13 years.

Last month, the Finance Department kicked off planning for the FY2023-24 budget. The City will spend the next six months formulating the budget. Each department will create a budget the fiscal year beginning in October 2023, and submit it to the Finance Department. Each Department head will then sit down with the Finance Department and City Management to review any proposed additions or changes to their budget before Finance prepares the proposed budget for the entire City. As City Manager, is then my job to review the entire budget before it is submitted to City Council.

After City Council has a chance to review the budget, they will hold budget workshops and introduce the ordinance on the budget and tax rate, which includes several public hearings. The workshops and hearings are typically in August, so be sure to look out for public notices on our website and in the local newspaper. This will be your opportunity to review the proposed budget document and comment during the public hearing process. The budget is then presented to Council in September for adoption, and the tax rate is set for the coming fiscal year. If approved, the FY2023-24 Budget will then go into effect on October 1, 2023. All of our budgets are available for residents to review and are located on our website at [Budget | Taylor, TX - Official Website \(taylortx.gov\)](http://Budget | Taylor, TX - Official Website (taylortx.gov)).

I look forward to another successful budget planning process this year, and thank the Finance Department for the great work they do to keep us on track.

Sincerely,

Brian LaBorde

Librarian Lends a Helping Hand

On Saturday, February 25, Taylor Public Library Director volunteered to participate in a Library Rescue program at the Teinert Memorial Library in Bartlett. As part of the program, Karen helped lead in the "weeding" of their large print section and the young adult/juvenile fiction.

There were other librarians and graduate students from the I-School at the University of Texas volunteering. About 30 boxes of books were packed up during the clearing efforts. Tools and guidelines were also shared with the Teinert Library director.

The Library Rescue Program is funded by a grant from the Texas State Library and other support from the Tocker Foundation. Partners Library Action is a statewide membership organization for public libraries. Karen serves on the PLAN Board as chair.

March Sales Tax Numbers

The City of Taylor has released the actual and cumulative sales tax numbers for the month of March and posted them to the City's website. The sales and use tax revenue reported for the City in March 2023 was $1,900,982, an increase of more than $1.3 million (277.8%) over the same time last year. The cumulative sales and use tax revenue through March 2023 is $10,065,206, an increase of over $6.9 million (221.6%) over the same period in 2021. In November 2022, the City began releasing a report on the third Tuesday of every month detailing the cumulative and actual numbers from the last four months of the year and compare them to the three prior years.

Increased sales tax revenue is a positive for Taylor residents for several reasons. A majority of the revenue in the City's General Fund is made up of ad valorem, or property tax that is charged to residents, and sales and use tax that is charged to anyone who purchases goods and services in the City. When sales and use tax revenues are up, it can help lower the property tax rate. Between the increased construction use taxes from the Samsung Semiconductor construction project, and an influx of visitors and businesses in our City, the City has seen an upward trend in sales and use tax numbers that we expect will continue in the coming years.

The next report will be released on Tuesday, April 18. For more information and to view the report, visit Finance section of the City's website at www.taylortx.gov.

Save the Date: Blackland Prairie Day Will Be Held On Saturday, May 6

Mark your calendars! Taylor's annual Blackland Prairie Day will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 6, in historic Downtown Taylor.

This free event honors the rich cultural heritage of Taylor, where local goods and friendly people are in abundance. We'll have live music and dance, food vendors, booths, kids' activities, antique tractor show and more! We also have over two dozen locally owned small businesses in downtown Taylor, so come grab your friends and family and enjoy this annual festival and shop local.

If you're interested in becoming a vendor, contact Main Street Manager Jan Harris at 512-352-3463 or email Jan Harris. Vendor applications are being accepted through April 28.

More information available on our website.
