City Manager Message

I would like to congratulate the City of Taylor Human Resources Department for being awarded the Human Resources Strategic Department of the Year award from the Texas Municipal Human Resources Association (TMHRA) during their conference in May in Georgetown. This award is a new category that recognizes the outstanding contributions an HR team has made in the past 18 months in their City and employees that they serve. The award acknowledges the efforts made to enhance and further the mission, vision and values of the organization and its culture while aligning strategic HR practices and programs. I commend them for their hard work and congratulate them on this well-deserved achievement

The City of Taylor's HR team is headed by Human Resources Director LaShon Gros and HR Coordinator Chris Silva-Gonzales. The department received the Strategic Department of the Year award in large part due to their implementation of our new payroll system, Paycom, over this last fiscal year, which replaced an outdated system that had been in use for many years. With the leadership of the HR department and in coordination with the Finance Department, the City was able to transition into a more advanced payroll system that has streamlined our HR process and proven to be a great benefit for City of Taylor employees. This system has created a more efficient process, given employees more access to their information and documents, and has given many valuable hours back to supervisors at all levels.

I'm so proud of the team we have here at the City of Taylor and their service and dedication to the City of Taylor and its residents.

Sincerely,

Brian LaBorde
City Manager

Code Rodeo Scheduled for July 13

The City of Taylor is working with Simplicity Design to bring the Envision Taylor Comprehensive Plan to life by updating the city's development code with a series of planning and strategic meetings called the Taylor Made Toolbox. The Taylor Made Toolbox is the next phase of the Envision Taylor plan. The Development Codes guide the built environment. The Toolbox will update Taylor's codes based on local preferences to ensure the future of the Envision Taylor plan.

Why are we updating the Development Codes?

The current rules on the books are not representing Taylor's current development patterns. Take a look at how new development differs from historic areas of Taylor. These codes will shape Taylor for the next generation.

How does the process work?

The first meeting, a DNA Round-Up, was held on Tuesday, April 19, at the Taylor Public Library. The Design Rodeo meeting was held on Tuesday, May 3.

During the DNA Round-Up, the event organizers analyzed and celebrated Taylor's original settlement patterns and discussed how they apply to Taylor's future. What they found is that the development processes in Taylor's historic downtown and many of the older, diverse neighborhoods are illegal under the current codes. To code for Taylor's future, we must first claim what we love about Taylor's built environment and direct what kind of new development fits best where. Then we begin to build the code.

The Design Rodeo held on May 3 consisted of a roundtable talk and design session where discussions were arranged by topics including housing diversity, retail and restaurant growth, neighborhood design, small town charm, and other topics. A live artist was at the event to create illustrations based on the discussions.

A design dialogue and open house was then held to dive deeper into the code using the artist illustrations and conversations held earlier in the afternoon which served as a launch-point for more detailed insights.

A third and final meeting, called a "Code Rodeo," will be held on Wednesday, July 13, at the Taylor Public Library. There will be a come anytime workshop from 1-4 p.m. to evaluate draft neighborhood sketches and review draft zoning maps and districts. Following, there will be an open house from 6-8 p.m. for an introductory presentation of code and feedback, input, and conversation.

The Code Rodeo is an opportunity for residents to help determine what's right, what's wrong, and what's missing in the designs. More events and opportunities to review drafts and submit input are available on the website at www.taylor.konveio.com [<http://www.taylor.konveio.com>].

Summer Safety Tips

As our weather continues to warm up, and we spend more time in our great Taylor Texas outdoors, please keep these safety tips in mind:

- Know the sign and symptoms of heat related injuries, learn more at: <https://www.cdc.gov/disasters/extremeheat/warning.html>.
- Be mindful of insect bites and stings and have plenty of medication available for allergic reactions.
- When outdoors, always keep your cell phone device handy. Emergencies can occur when we least expect them.
- When hiking or trail walking be aware of your surroundings. Make sure you know your location so emergency services can locate you in case of an emergency.
- When cooking outdoors ensure your pits, grills and smokers are located at least 10 feet away from any structure and that the coals are fully extinguished when cooking is completed.

July 4th is just around the corner, so please keep in mind that fireworks are prohibited by ordinance within the city limits of Taylor. Violation of the ordinance may result in confiscation and a fine. Fireworks start over 19,000 fires and send over 9,000 people to the Emergency Room every year in the US. Please don't put yourself and your neighbors at risk. We encourage you to enjoy one of the many public fireworks displays including the one here in Taylor. Our goal is to keep everyone safe and able to enjoy Taylor's great outdoors.
