THE MALLARD '51

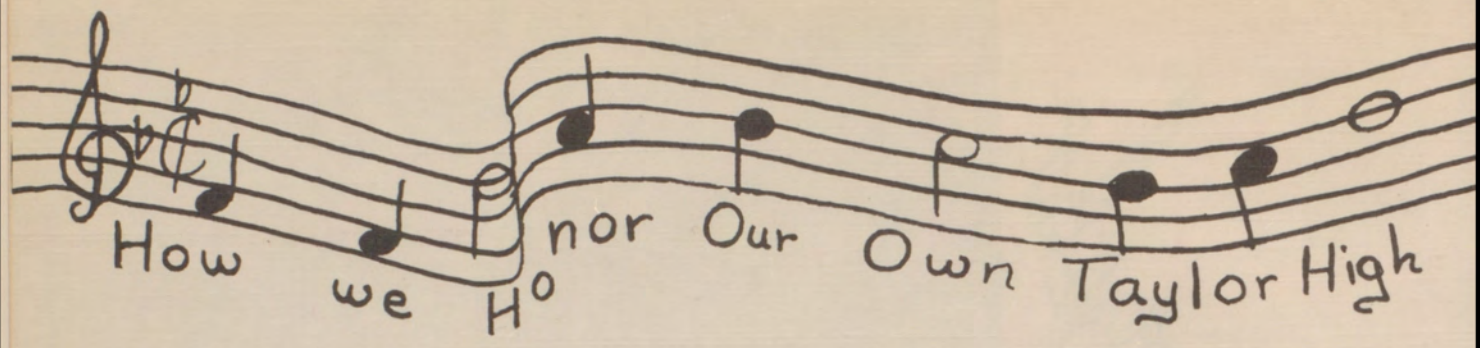

Taylor High School

Presents

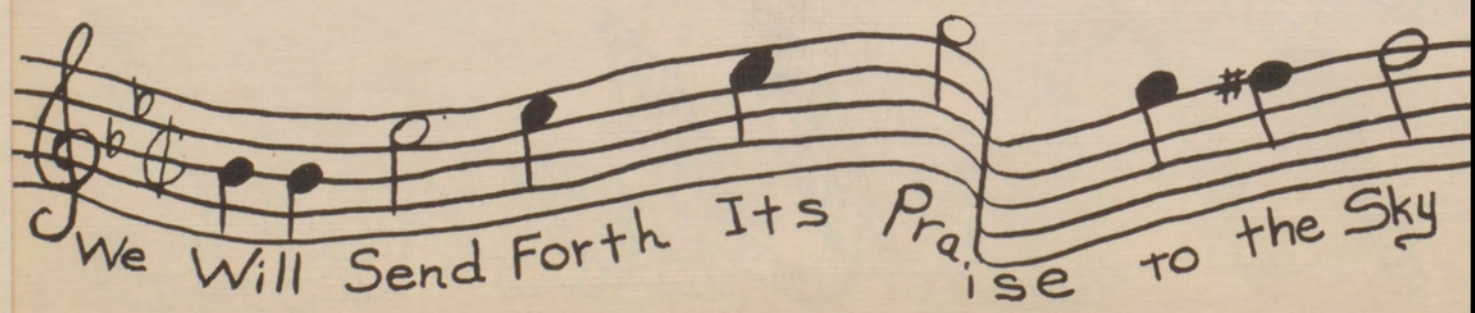

The Mallard

FOREWORD

This has been a momentous year in the annals of world history, but here it has been a year of events that will live in our memories when our high school days are things of the past. If THE MALLARD has captured the spirit of those events and recorded them for you in a lasting form, then the book has fulfilled its purpose.

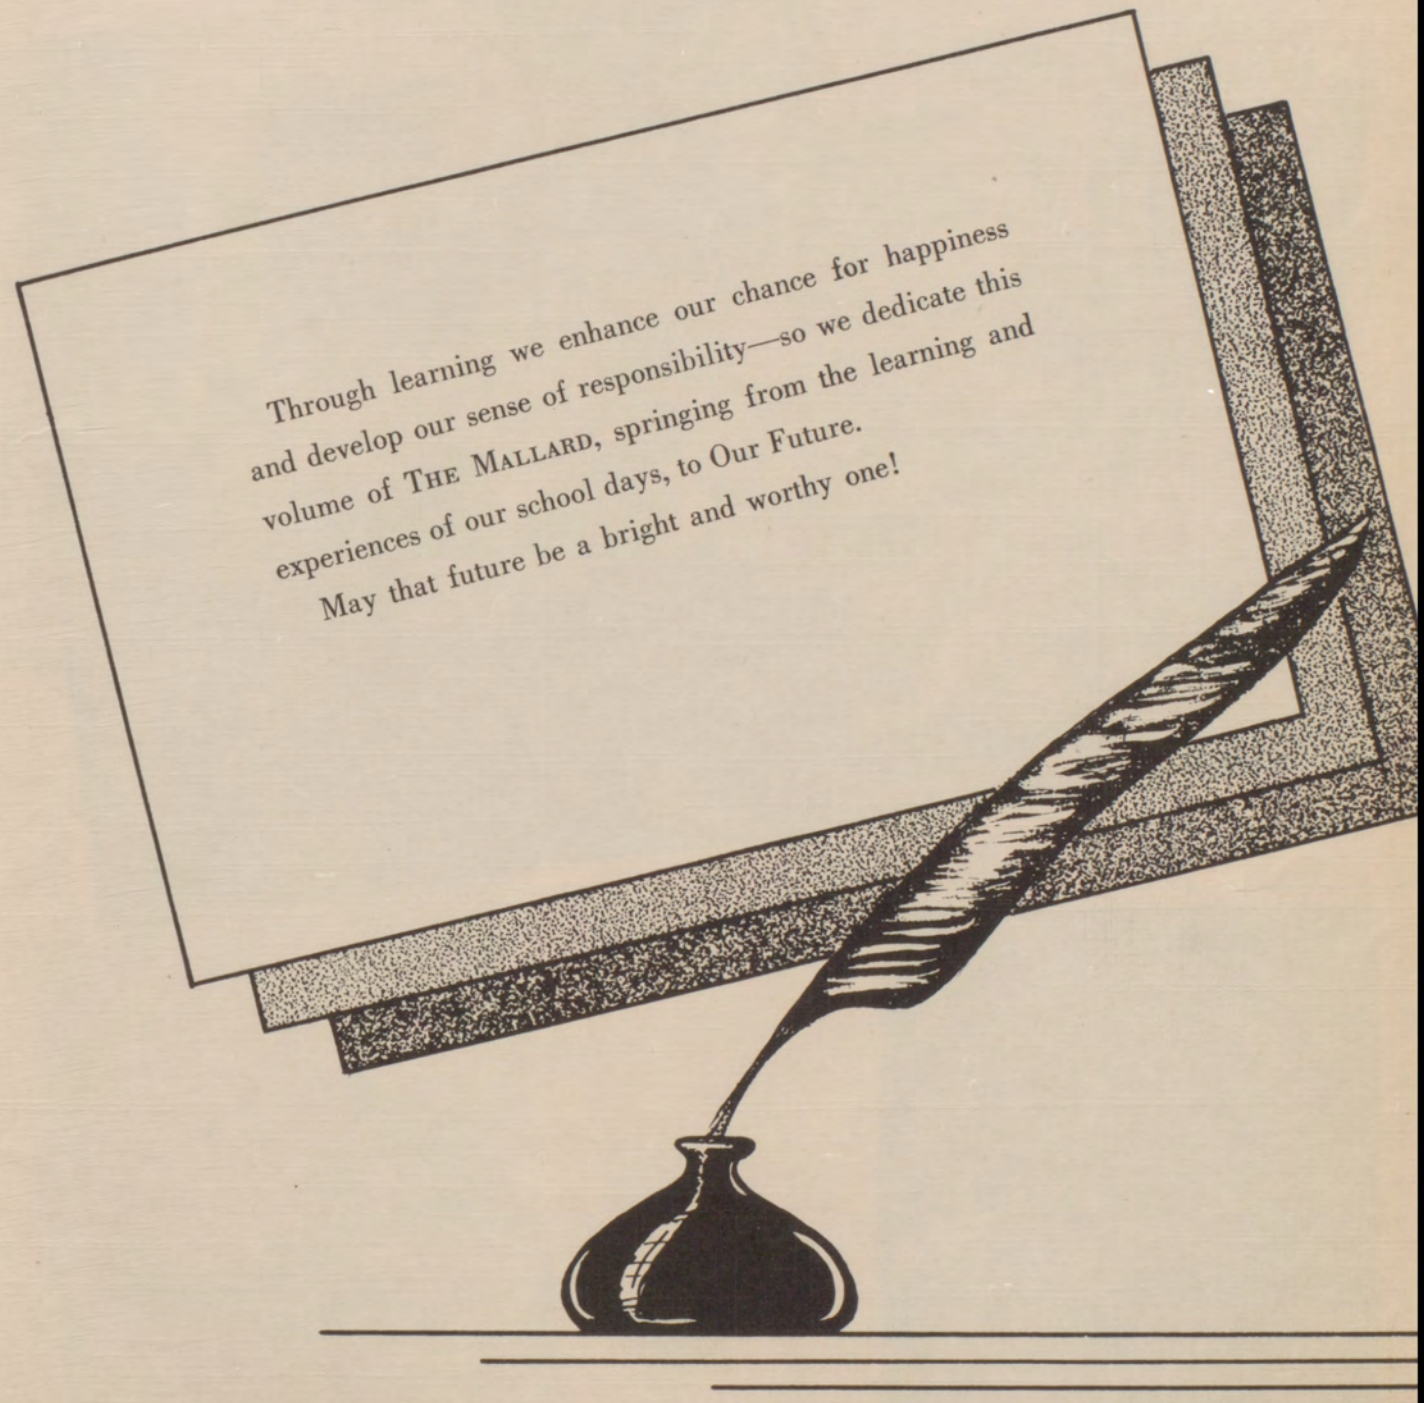

THE ANNUAL STAFF

Dedication

Through learning we enhance our chance for happiness and develop our sense of responsibility—so we dedicate this volume of THE MALLARD, springing from the learning and experiences of our school days, to Our Future.

May that future be a bright and worthy one!

Superintendent's Message

To: Students of Taylor Junior-Senior High School.

To those students who are leaving us this year our regrets are sincere over losing you. However, we want to convey good wishes and a hope that the experiences of your school days will challenge your best efforts to a very constructive life as a citizen in this community. We will look forward with great pride to the successes you attain in the future.

To those students who shall return, I should like to point out a few of your responsibilities. They are: (1) That you remind yourself of the educational and social opportunities which are yours in this school (2) To be sympathetic with your school experiences and utilize the many advantages your school offers (3) To be a loyal student, protect and carry out the traditions and good name of your school.

I want to congratulate and thank you for a very pleasant school year. I sincerely feel that the students of Taylor High School are the most loyal and cooperative group to be found anywhere. It is a great joy to have known and worked with you.

Sincerely,

T. H. Johnson

Superintendent of Schools

Principal's Message

It is with great admiration and pleasure that I commend you highly for the fine spirit of cooperation and for the fine spirit of unselfish citizenship you have displayed this school year. These things have greatly aided the success of our school program.

Attitude and cooperation are two attributes of life. You have excelled in both. May each of you have the success and happiness in life which each of these qualities brings to those who work and live in such a way.
