Foreword

It is our hope in presenting this annual, THE MALLARD of 1953, to depict to the best of our ability, the activities and traditions of Taylor High School.

As we launch out upon the sea of life, memories of our school days may grow dim; but if, in the years that lie ahead, this book enables us to recall our many pleasant experiences in Taylor High School, then we, the annual staff of 1953, shall have accomplished our goal.

Dedication

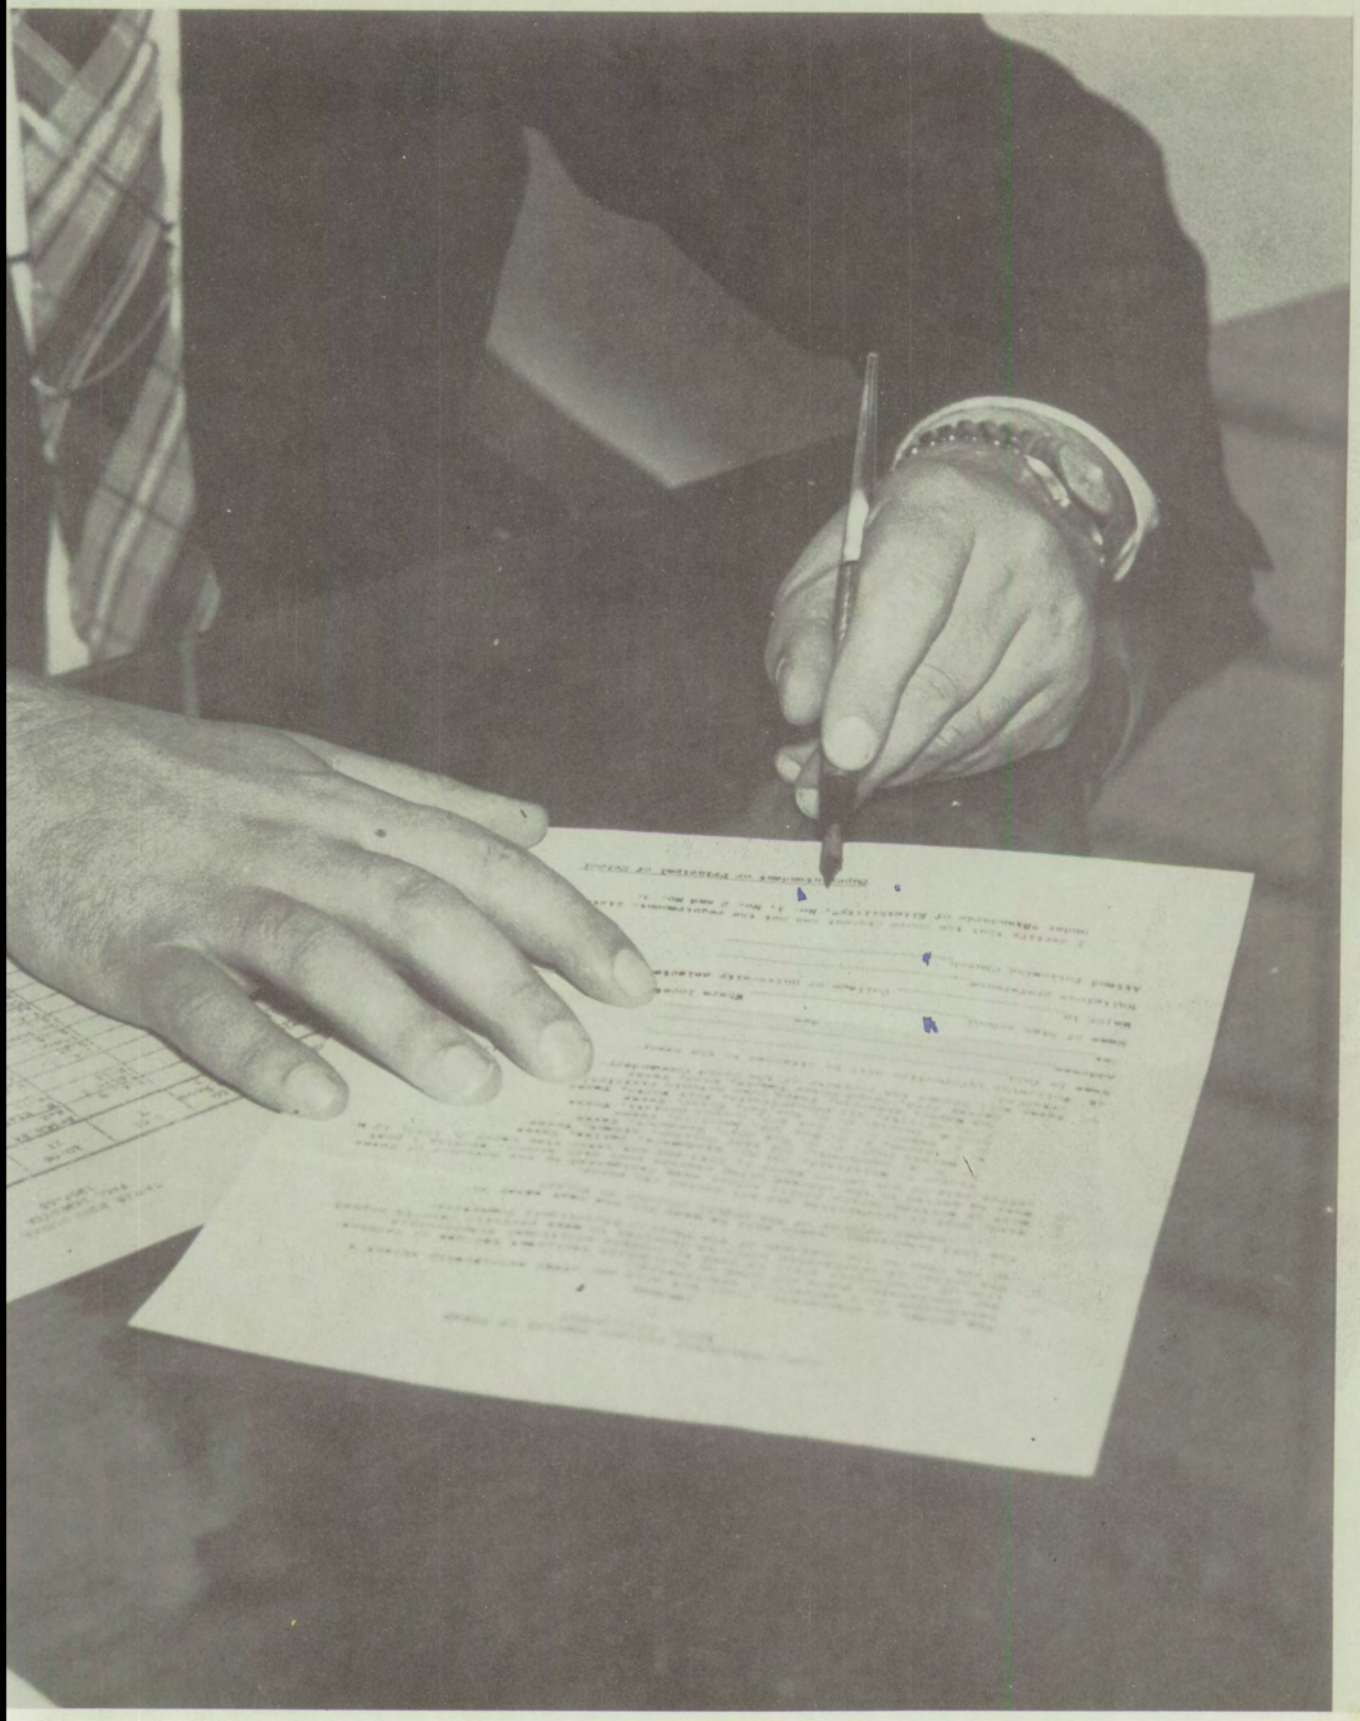

E G Osborne

Within one short year Mr. E. G. Osborne has, through his magnetic personality and ever-ready assistance to us, endeared himself to every Taylor High School student. He has not only been a wise counselor, a warmhearted, interested, and efficient guide in all our activities, but, above all, a sympathetic friend whose life will continue to be an inspiration to us after we have left high school.

For these reasons, we affectionately dedicate this 1953 MALLARD to our principal and friend, Mr. E. G. Osborne.

To The Students of Taylor High School:

This message, addressed to the students of Taylor Junior-Senior High School, is to convey good wishes and contratulations to each of you. We hope that the experiences, the associations, and the public education you have received have prepared you for a vastly complicated world.

Above all, it is hoped that your years in school have served to strengthen your understanding and taught you how to get along with other people, made you a better citizen, and contributed to your future success in the community.

My sincerest thanks to all of you for the fine school spirit and cooperation you have exhibited during the school year.

Sincerely,

T. H. Johnson
