Gives Up 9.8 Points Per Game

Oliphint to Buzan combination clicks for another big gain! Junior quarterback Oliphint completed 20 passes to wingback Buzan during the year which was good for 250 yards.

"And you know what you can do?" Coach Cliff Vanderventer, in only his second year as head coach in Taylor, guided the surprising Ducks to a fine 2nd place finish in district and a great 7-2-1 season record. We salute the 1968 Duck Team, the assistant coaches, and Coach Vandeventer for a job well done.

"Holy cow, straighten up and fly right!"

Ramblin' Rick heads for paydirt as Ducks romp to another victory.

Big Ducks Play "Catch-Up" to

Tri-Captain Schroeder follows blocks of Bohls (30), Davis (62), and Flint (70), to a Duck first-down.

Rickey MaCuk is brought down after picking up a first down.

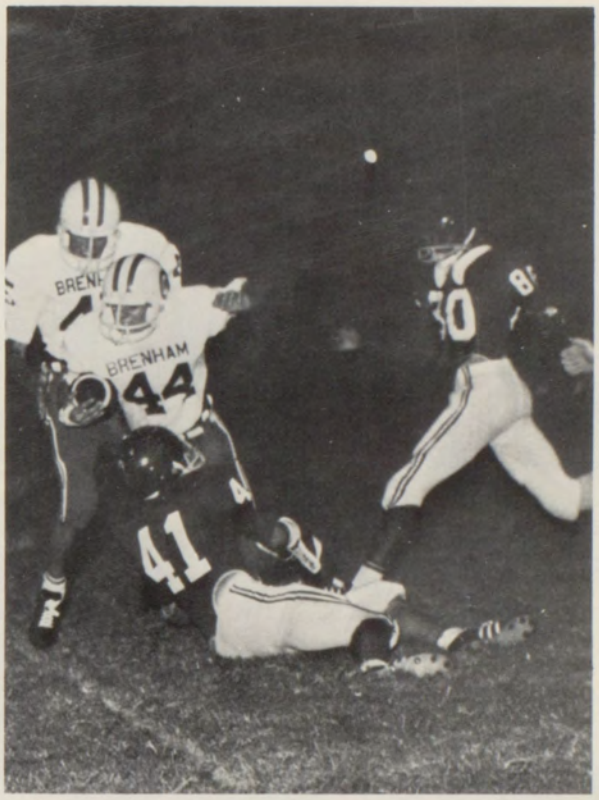

"Calvin, stop doing the four corners and block someone!"

The '68 Ducks placed seven men on the first All District team. Arnold Cuba (left) was one of two players to be picked as a starter on both offense and defense.

Defeat Rockdale for Exes

David Farr, Duck Tri-Captain, receives knee injury in Cameron game.

Arnold Cuba, No. 41, brings down Cub Ball carrier.

The '68 football season was described by all sports writers as a "season of surprise." This was certainly true of the surprising Taylor Ducks. Though small in size, the Ducks fought hard for a second place finish in District 13AAA. James Schroeder led the Ducks with 1,079 yards on the ground. Close behind were: R. MaCuk (402 yds.), C. Schaefer (360 yds.), and Junior QB. T. Oliphint, gained 322 on foot, 800 yds. in the air.

We Pay Tribute . . .

We, the members of the MALLARD staff, would like to recognize the '68-'69 cheerleaders, and the wonderful job they have done this past year. They have dedicated more time and effort to school spirit than any cheerleaders in the past. Their boundless energy and new ideas have made Taylor High a place to be proud of. These cheerleaders have worked hard to prove that "Pride Makes the Difference." Hard work and long hours went into all the pep rally signs, locker signs, letter writing, and perfecting of yells.

So, Becky, Pat, Connie, Peggy, and Kathy, thank you for a job well done.

Mallard Who's Who Inaugurates

In each school, there is a certain person called the student, without whom there would be no reason for the school.

The student is an individual. He is the Senior whose last four years have been closely associated with the school and its faculty and who dreams about future accomplishments in various fields. He is the Junior whose main hope is to have this year's Prom the biggest and best ever. He is the Sophomore who constantly confuses William Shakespeare with Virgil and Homer. And he is the Freshman who still thinks ACT is something you do on stage.

This year the staff decided to include individual students who have done outstanding work. These students were chosen by the faculty on ability and interest.

Each is an individual.

BILLY WOOD

Billy, three-year member of the One-Act Play, represents the Speech and Drama departments.

In his first year in plays, he was named to the District All-Star cast. More recently, he was named to the Regional cast for his character portrayal of the President in "The Apollo of Bellac which placed 2nd at state this year.

Billy also went to state competition in boys Poetry.

Future plans include a major in religion and a minor in drama.

CAROL LOGHRY and KAYE TEICHELMAN

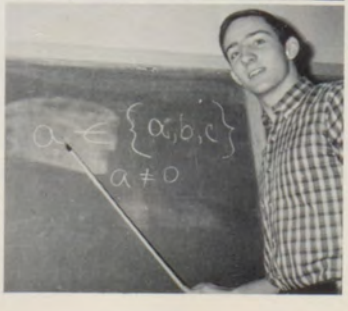

The Language department decided on two representatives: Carol Loghry, Spanish and Kaye Teichelman, Latin.

Carol has shown a continual interest in Spanish. Aside from her three years of Spanish, she has been very active in all club sponsored activities of Los Vecinos.

Kay, two year member of Latin Club, was chosen for her ability as well as interest. She has expressed feelings towards continuing her language career beyond the high school level.

ARNOLD CUBA

Arnold, genius with the numbers, is the most deserving student to represent the math section.

In addition to holding membership in various clubs, serving as class prexy for two years, and lettering in football and track, Arnold has proved his mathematical skill in Algebra I and II, Chemistry, Plane Geometry, and Trigonometry, sometimes working problems even his teachers couldn't do.

Recognition of Outstanding Students

VERNA MAE ROSS

Verna, four-year member of Future Homemakers of America, represents the Home Economic section this year.

Verna, constantly on the Honor Roll, enjoys cooking and sewing, having made many of the outfits she wears to school. Her favorite past time is going through her recipe books to see what she can make. She also likes to make her own recipes, experimenting on new dishes.

Judging by Verna's sincere interest in Home Economics, we feel sure she will make a fine Home-maker.

GARY STOLLE

Gary Stolle, Science whiz, was chosen most representative from the science section.

Throughout Gary's high school career he has constantly appreared on the THS honor roll. He has successfully completed almost every science course offered, including General Science, Biology, and Chemistry maintaining a high A average all the while.

Judging by his previous record we feel certain Gary will be a success at whatever he decides to do.

JAMES WOLBRUECK

James, only Freshman, in WHO'S WHO, represents the industrial arts section.

James has shown much originality in his work already. He completely built an enormous book case entirely on his own. This project was on his own time also.

James spends much of his spare time in his father's workshop.

Certainly with all his ambition he will no doubtly triumph through out his high school years.

KENNETH TEALER

Kenneth, noted for his many musical talents, was unanimously chosen for WHO'S WHO in music.

Kenneth, a four year member of the band occupies first chair in the French Horn section.

This year, he won acclaim for his singing talents by being named second alternate at the state level. He holds the office of Vice-president in the choir.

Future plans include a major in music and to become a band director.

Lively Show-Biz Pep Rallies

Welcome to "Concert Hour" featuring ...

Here we are at Coach's Corner ...

Would you believe they missed it a little?

Fellow Americans ...

Wonder if I can slip in a fast poem?

So then the drunk says to the Bartender ...

I Think I do better on the playing field than here ...

The 1968 pep rallies were sparked by enthusiastic students, a spirit-lifting band, high-stepping twirlers, psychedelic signs and posters, and vivacious cheerleaders. The cheerleaders also afforded much amusement with their original skits.

Such were the excitement and vibrance of our pep rallies that ex-students were seen in the doorways.

Keep Great Duck School Spirits High

Good evening, welcome to Krueger campaign headquarters ...

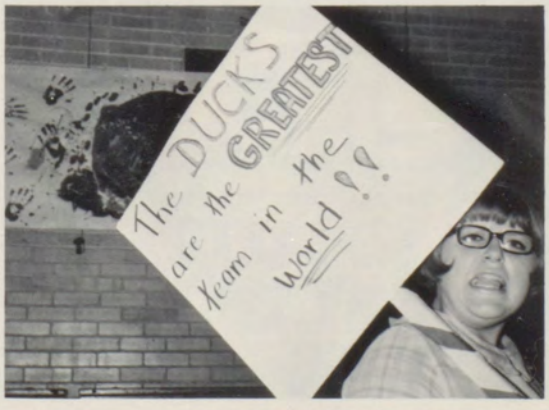

If there has ever been excitement ...

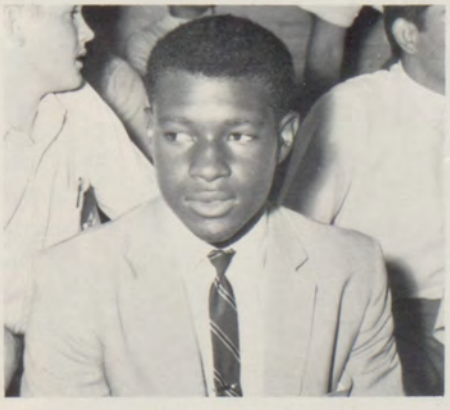

And of course the girls had their mouths open as usual.

"Would you like to fly ..."

"Don't argue or I'll punch you in the nose!"

"So who's gonna argue?"

"This is the happiest moment of my life."

Exes Welcomed With Spirit-Filled

Happiness is winning the Spirit plaque your Senior year!

Madelene Zimmerhanzel was crowned '69 Homecoming Queen.

Stage band offered musical entertainment.

Duck tri-captains promised victory ... and got it!

Don't look now, but you lost the film!

The 1969 Homecoming assembly was comprised of reminiscing speeches, hilarious skits and a high-spirited pep rally.

The entire assembly was considered a huge success from the opening speech by Mr. Andrew Tarkington, President of Continental Oil Company, to singing of the class song at the close.

This year's assembly was to be rated among the very best!

Pep Rally and Big Duck Victory!

"Mom always liked her best!"

"Man, when you kill a fly, you KILL a fly!"

"Ah yes! Never met a cane I didn't like!"

"Memorize this note! Then swallow it!"

Tip toe through the tulips ...

And no hitting below the belt!

Juniors know how to fill out a sign!

"Smile! You're on Candid Holdup!"

"My braces are caught on your ring!"

"A Night in Old New Orleans" Really Swings!

Put your little foot right here!

Even the Soul Brothers enjoyed the Prom.

I wonder what Kirk is thinking about??

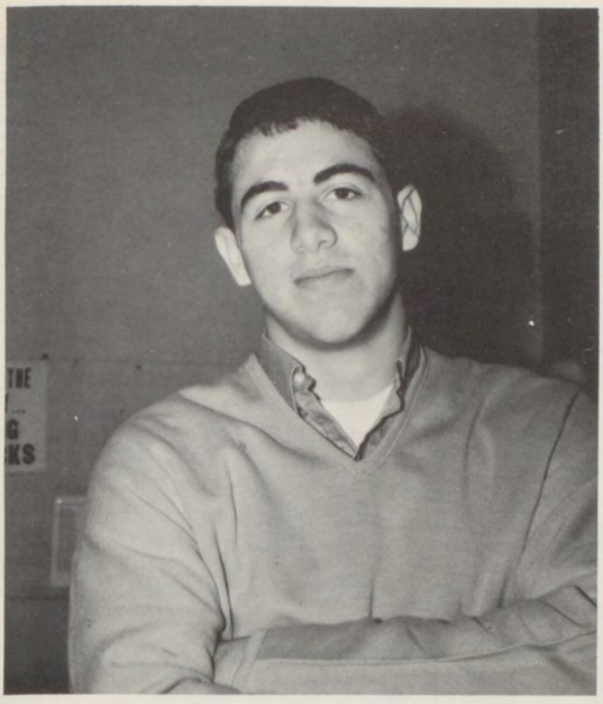

And the Beat goes on!!!

A hard working sponsor finds a few minutes of pleasure out of the Prom.

Familiar Faces of T.H.S.

Now is that any way to treat a guy?

I think I'll change place cards.

Come on! Don't take my picture.

Would you look at that score.

I wonder if she knows what she's doing.

I really dread my turn.

They always told me I favored my mother.

Seniors Keep Audience Amused While

"I am the lion! Rrroarrr!"

Is this any way to run an assembly?

"Are you sure this is the way to make Cracker Jacks?"

Tommy gets Good Sportsmanship Award?

"How'd you like to do your thing at my place?"

"Didn't we meet in ..."

"Remember when THS became ..."

"Doing Their Thing" on Stage —

The COWBOYS picked and sang and just had a grand ole time!

"Pardon me, but could you tell me where I could find the nearest study hall?"

"WE WILL HAVE THESE SENIORS TO REMEMBER!"

'69 Seniors Follow in Tradition —

Senior girls display abundant beatuy at luxurious dressing room.

Would you believe-SENIORS? ...

You'll never find a more relaxed Linda.

Can't you find anything better to do??

Kirk's famous iguana face.

Open wide, Terry!

Make Annual Trek to Landa Park —

A part of the group of the in crowd ...

What really did go on in that room?

Aren't people camera-shy these days?

Faces, faces, faces and figures?

Soup line - 1969 Style ...

T.H.S. Seniors—Always Where the Action Is . . .

This place is dead, let's go where the action is.

Why are people always taking my picture? . . .

Too bad this picture is only going in a yearbook.

You never give up - do you, Pat?

Girls, don't look so bored; the trip lasts only one day.

HOW DID THESE GET IN HERE??? . . .

A PRIDE FOR ALL TO SHARE

You -- the present students of Taylor High -- and those to follow you in the years to come can take great pride in your modern new Taylor High School. It is one of the finest and most complete secondary facilities in the entire United States. All of us who live in this area share in your pride for your new Taylor High.

This new high school became a reality because we older citizens of Taylor have boundless faith and confidence in you younger people. It became a reality because we wanted for you the best in educational opportunities -- to help you learn today so that you may enjoy a better life in tomorrow's world.

As a member of the Taylor School Board for the past six years, I am extremely proud to have had a small part along with many others in the planning and completion of your new Taylor High School. May the thrill we feel live for you, also.

Sincerely,

Leo L. Livingston
