'AS IT WAS'

Taylor High School

Taylor, Texas

Volume 26

School days soon end, and we leave behind our classrooms, books, and empty lockers. We take with us many memories ... memories of friends, teachers, events, activities, and organizations. The Mallard is a storehouse of those memories.

Rise and Shine:

Dragging out of bed ... a quick breakfast ... finding a parking place ... stepping off the bus ... starting the school day ... lots of sleepy faces ... digging through your notebook or wallet to find that courtesy pass ... 8:00 meetings that are just too early ... roll call ... trying to keep your eyes open during first period ... a blocking dummy that's more awake than the boys ... ten minutes to get dressed before second period ... announcements ... and another school day is under way.

It's Lunch Time:

Growling stomachs ... watching the clock ... rushing out of class ... standing in the hamburger line ... having a hot dog ticket ... traffic jams in the parking lot ... slowing down for the squad car ... finding a table ... waiting for your order ... eating and relaxing at home ... hurrying to make a 12:30 meeting ... indigestion ... happy faces and full stomachs congregate in the student center ... sitting in the library cramming for that fourth period test ...

When the Sun Goes Down:

3:50 ... the bell rings and thoughts turn from books and studies to ... long hours of practice and devotion to various sports and activities ... hurrying to get to work on time ... goofing off ... meetings, dates, BLIT ... any excuse to get out of the house ... trying to convince the lady in the ticket booth you're 18 ... making drags ... the long ride home from a date.

The preceeding pages, as well as the rest of the book, are an attempt to "tell it like it is," so you can remember it "AS IT WAS."

We Remember

In unselfish dedication to teaching, Miss Ruth Mantor, Miss Beatrice McKinley, and Mr. Artis Caldwell committed themselves to the growth and development of students of Taylor High School. These teachers were a part of this school for many years and the memory of them will remain indelible in the hearts and minds of those who knew them as friends or teachers.

Miss Mantor retired in 1971 after more than 30 years of teaching in Taylor. A remarkable teacher, she had a legend of her own that will remain for years to come. The mere mention of her name stirs thoughts that are common to hundreds of former students: Cotton Boll ... English III and IV ... research reports ... Macbeth ... mythology ... NHS ... state finalist for Teacher of the Year in 1970 ... difficult but dedicated ... known fondly by friends and secretly by students as Ruth.

Retiring after 28 years of teaching in Taylor, Miss McKinley has contributed many achievements and many memories to the school. Certainly some of the thoughts that are naturally linked with her name include: local founder and sponsor of Los Vecinos ... a working Friend of the Library ... dedicated to the classroom ... Chili supper ... pages of translations ... "Roll your r's" ... disc jockey for Spanish lab ... Teacher of the Year in 1972.

Unexpected dealth in 1971 ended Mr. Caldwell's successful career as an agriculture teacher. As a teacher at Taylor, and O. L. Price before that, he always gave of himself to the student. Many thoughts and memories linger of the characteristics that made him a unique person and teacher: always promoting good will and good business ... particularly interested in poultry and parliamentary procedure ... robust laugh ... known and honored by colleagues in agriculture.

FEATURES '72

As he was honored at the Homecoming Assembly, Mr. T. H. Johnson reminisced about his days of coaching football and being superintendent at Taylor.

The kazoo band, led by Steven Weber and made up of Jeff Brown, Dean Corbett, John Daugherty, Mark Weber, Brad Streit, David Stiba, and Thomas Alderson, entertained with a medley of songs and some precision (?) drills.

A more serious number came as the Brass Quintet played their version of "Moe's Art." Pictured are Gary Ryan, David Kautz and Becky Rinderknecht.

With hammer in hand and Friday night's game in mind, Fred Lewis took his turn at bashing in the maroon and white car which the auto mechanics department had painted to resemble a Lockhart Lion.

Homecoming queen nominees Susan Urbanek, Judy Jefferson, Charla Welch, Marsha Krueger, Jalane Wade, and Shary Wheeless were introduced at the assembly, but had to wait until the game for the big announcement.

Changing the style of the assembly to resemble a talk show, Mrs. Amy Bates shared her duties as emcee with Mr. Johnson.

Tommy Watson and Tracy Whitlow eagerly waited for Shirley Schlinke to finish the punch that the Council intended for returning exes.

Cathy Karkoska and Peggy Pope danced to music from the '50's.

Homecoming '71

Greeting old friends ... remembering when ... a long assembly showing it 'as it was' in the 1950's ... paying tribute to a former coach and superintendent ... six excited homecoming queen nominees ... a pep rally filled with tension and anticipation ... seniors finally winning the sign contest ... memories ... a heartbreaking loss to Lockhart ... saying good-by until the next reunion ... That was Homecoming '71.

Sarah Berry, Teresa Psencik, Alice Aanstoos, Joy Ponkoney, Susan Tate, Dawn Burow, and Donna Debus brought Edgar Allen Poe from his grave with a seance before the show.

Vitorri (Dannie Volek) urges Fortunato (Bill Ruzicka) to taste his exotic wine as an anxious Lita (Vicki Stafford) and Helena (Donna Schroeder) listen, not knowing Vitorri will soon meet death in "The Cask of Amontillado."

Sherri Walker, make-up chairman, checked to see that every hair was in place before Zolka (Curtis Stauffer) went on stage.

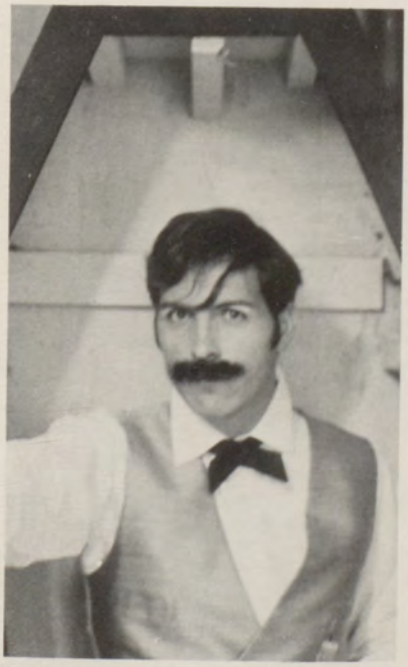

Netti (Betsy Curik) and Kristin (Cathy Karkoska), two eccentric sisters, argue with Jess (Steven Weber) as his frightened new bride Lorna (Carol Jackson) watches in a scene from "The Tell Tale Heart."

An Evening With Poe

Mystery, murder, and mobs of people filled the auditorium as On Stage '72 presented "An Evening With Edgar Allen Poe," December 3 and 4. To students who were involved it was more than just two nights of performing. It was: practicing in a cold auditorium ... making posters for publicity ... hours spent hunting costumes ... grease make-up ... putting eye-liner on the boys ... anxiously awaiting your moment on stage ... shouting so people in the back could hear ... stage fright ... forgetting lines ... "I can't believe it's over," heard again and again during the after-play party at the Country Club ... and knowing the feeling of success.

In a dramatic balcony scene Trosa (Junnie Gipson), Maria (Jerrie Murphy), Leanardo (Rex Schneider), and Celestina (Debi Cotner) are unsuspecting of their impending doom at the hands of the "Masque of Red Death."

Edgar Allen Poe (Mr. Dean Clark) came alive to introduce and explain his plays to a surprised audience.

Joan Peters, Betsy Curik, Vicki Stafford, Jeanette Vanecek, Jeff Brown, John Daugherty, and Glynda Wade joined others in celebrating a successful performance at the party Saturday night.

Powder Puff:

"That's the football," explain coaches Jay Bergstrom and Stephen Srnensky to Cindy Sakewitz, Debra O'Rear, and Minnie Jackson.

Flying to the goal, Peggy Pope gains yards for the Juniors.

"Okay, now team, this time let's try to tackle the guys on the other team."

Practice after school ... wearing over-sized jerseys ... conspiring against the other team ... four 'young lovelies' vying for the title of Powder Puff Queen ... holding on to your flag ... hard ground ... sore muscles ... victory for Juniors and Freshmen.

Tension builds among freshmen as they watch from the sidelines.

In their tight huddle, sophomores eagerly plan their next move.

"If she does that one more time x!!!"

Football Banquet

The first football banquet in several years turned out to be a memorable event as many boosters turned out to honor the 1971 Duck team. Head coach Harold Mayo presented the most outstanding lineman award to Mark Krueger and Charles Fuller ... Reggie Turner received the most outstanding back award ... James Bartosh accepted the coaches' 'lionhearted' award ...

Mark Winkelman took a bow as he was recognized for being an All-District and All-Centex player ... Coaches and their wives, along with guest speaker Jim Hess and Mrs. Hess, relaxed after the formal ceremonies for a chat and a picture.

Seniors:

Paint and ideas provided a winning combination for the senior Homecoming sign ... taking over City Hall ... putting on our buttons and bows for senior portraits ... cap and gown measurements ... sponsoring a basketball tournament ... ordering invitations ... fighting for an open prom and losing ... Imagine ... the senior assembly that rocks the auditorium ... debating over the senior trip ... agreeing on a band, a barbeque, and a river bottom ... kid day ... 23 honor graduates ... feeling of nostalgia ... reaching a goal.

The photographer straightens Wanda Wiesner's drape before taking her senior portrait.

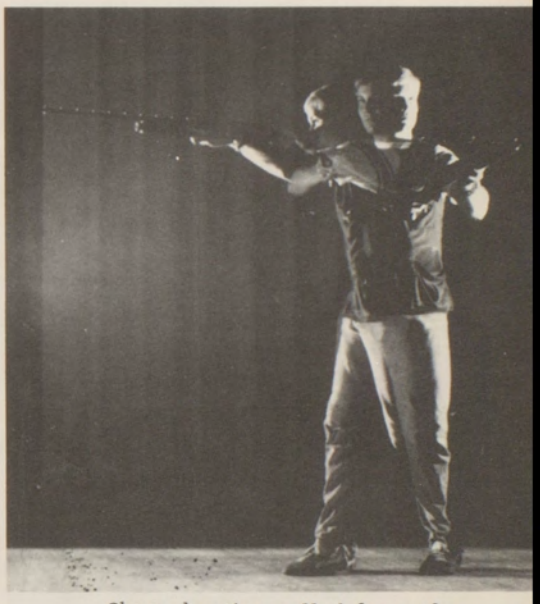

As a result of the senior's efforts, Linda Caldwell reigned as Cotton Bell Relays Queen.

Kid Day gave the Seniors a chance to act their age as shown by Joan Stelle, Sandra Frank, and Judy Jefferson.

After four years the Senior Homecoming sign took first place.

Skeet shooting called for swift action from Ricky Pope.

Seniors danced to the music of La Familia Alta.

Darrell Haag found that sometimes too many activities can be exhausting.

This was the juniors colorful attempt to win the Homecoming sign honor.

Nervous drum major hopefuls go through last minute drills before performing for the judges.

Juniors:

Sitting on the astroturf, Jay Bergstrom relaxes at the Band Day halftime rehearsal in the Astrodome.

A long, long, long candy sale ... turning brand new senior rings 73 times ... donating sandwiches and cupcakes for concession stands ... creating a Homecoming sign in Coach Smith's garage ... an unsuccessful bake sale ... participating in UIL ... missing the fun of working on a prom ... ushering the people in and the seniors out at commencement ... Would anyone like to buy a bar of World's Finest Chocolate?

"Only 72 more to go," thinks Charlotte Hardi as Diane Jasek turns her new senior ring for good luck.

Sophomores:

Anxious sophomores Syrisse Seale, Debbie Zieschang, Valerie Eulenfeld, Heather Miller, and Cindy Tallas have a last minute practice before cheerleader tryouts begin.

Although the sophomore sign didn't win, it was one of the most colorful.

Practice, practice and more practice resulted in a superior rating earned by Charlotte Threadgill, Debbie Kubala, and Patricia Jansky.

Dean Corbett, Dennis Farr, Bob Barkley, Mr. Harold Kurtz, Danny Kaspar, and Thomas Alderson arrived bright and early Friday morning to put up their big yellow Homecoming sign.

Color, imagination and hours of work resulted in a big, beautiful homecoming sign ... sports ... enthusiastically winning a spirit award ... another powder puff defeat ... class participation ... band solos and ensembles ... wet dirty sophs ... clean, shiny cars ... earning money for the Cotton Boll Relays queen nominee ... UIL events ... cheerleader tryouts ... sophomores find themselves at the close of another school year.

An energetic Dennis Farr rinses off the car as Cathy Karkoska, Danny Kaspar, Doreen Klotz, Monica Wright, Pam Marburger, and John Daugherty supervise at the sophomore car wash.

On hand to give out trophies for the Cotton Boll Relays was sophomore queen nominee Cindy Tallas.

Freshmen:

Lots of practice paid off for Terrie Snider, Diane Roznovak, Alice Aanstoos, Sharon Nickerson, and Johnny Roose who all brought home I division medals for their Class III ensembles.

Volunteer workers Marianne Ponton, Cindy Minzenmayer, Candice Poldrack, Renee Scheer, and Sandra Banks sold cupcakes, cookies, and candy to the fans at the faculty basketball game.

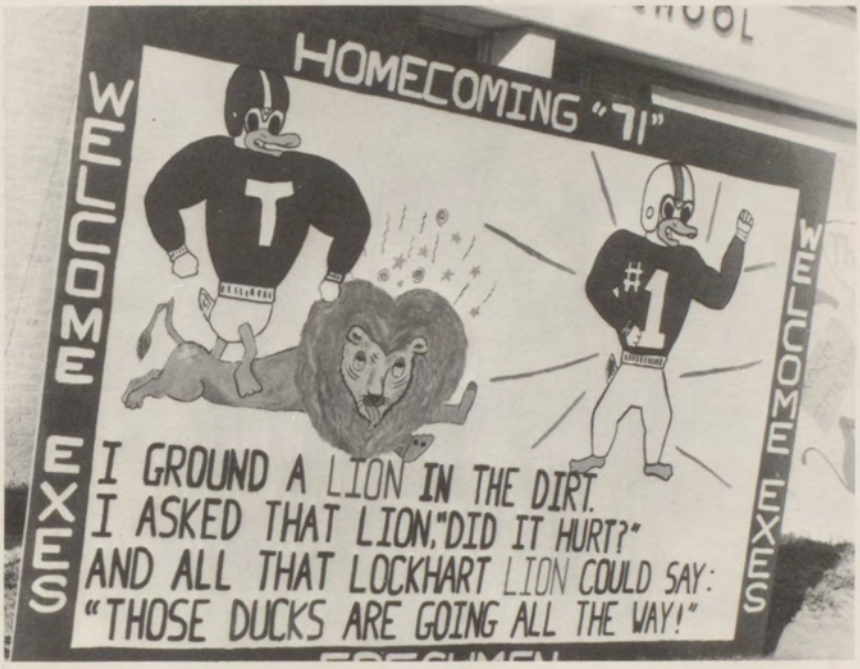

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar; all for the faculty stand up and hollar," shouts faculty cheerleader Mrs. Lamone Wylie.

One more car washed and one more dollar earned for the freshman Cotton Boll Relays Queen nominee. Pictured are Gregory Teggeman, Connie Wade, Janice Kaspar, and Diane Strmiska.

Getting out of class for testing ... filling in circle after circle after circle ... a 5-3 football record ... endless hours of painting on a homecoming sign ... eight superior rated band solos ... a car wash that ended in as many wet fish as cars ... sponsoring a basketball rematch between the high school and middle school faculties to raise money for Cotton Boll Relays queen nominee Terrie Holstrom ... high school faculty taking it 52-49 ... one down and three more to go.

A wooden homecoming sign presented more problems than Freshmen anticipated.

A cold Cotton Boll Relays queen nominee, Terrie Holmstrom, tries to keep warm while waiting for the presentation of trophies.

Tired freshmen take a break from the long, exhausting hours of October achievement testing in the cafeteria.

Scholarships, Awards, Presentations Given in Morning Awards Assembly

This morning in Awards Assembly awards and scholarships were given to many students in recognition of their outstanding work.

An award from the Taylor Business and Professional Women's Club was presented to Camille Horsak.

Wednesday Music Club of Taylor recognized Ann Lee as an outstanding music student.

Charles Flink received the Texas Chemical Company award for being such an excellent science student.

Danforth Foundation presented the book, "I Dare You" to two prominent members of the senior class. The books were given to Becky Rinderknecht and Sam Ross.

The A. M. House Award for the student with the highest average in high school was given to Jerrie Murphy.

The Bobby Wilks Memorial Scholarship created by the PTA was presented to Linda Caldwell. The scholarship was for $100.00.

Sonja Hundley was awarded a $100.00 scholarship from the Professional Nurses of District 34.

Taylor Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas gave an award to an outstanding FHA member, Karen Rubino.

Recipients of the National Honor Society $100.00 scholarships were Arlene Poldrack, Charla Welch, and James Wolbrueck. For the First time this year a scholarship was given by NHS to a non-member to encourage leadership and character throughout the school. The $50 scholarship went to William Trevino.

Ginger Ripple received the Texas Classroom Teachers' Association scholarship for $100, given to a senior FTA member.

Leon Bohls presented the Voice of Democracy contest winners with their awards. Winners were first place, Betty Kucera; second place, Jerrie Murphy; Charla Welch, third place.

Sam Ross was given the Balfour Award in recognition of being such an outstanding student.

Mrs. O. B. Klein was given an award by the Student Council for being such a deserving person.

Susan Daugherty made an award to Miss Beatrice McKinley on behalf of the Spanish Club.

Karen Randig and Mark Weber were honored for being the representatives to Boys' and Girls' State this summer.

Honor graduates were recognized as were UIL winners.

Academic awards for having a yearly scholastic average of 93 were given to 31 sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Band Rates Excellent

The feelings and hard work of the Band were shown in the many things they did ... hot rodeo parades ... supporting the Ducks in the rain at Hearne ... winning the spirit award ... after school practices ... practicing football shows over and over and over ... exhausted musicians ... shot lips ... Astrodome ... Show Case for Bands ... performing a hand and dance routine ... band jackets ... talking behind stands ... Mr. Whitlow telling everyone to be quiet ... playing in the pit at the Homecoming assembly ... the disappointment of making a II at marching contest ... tears ... and more tears ...

Varsity Band at football games prove they deserve the spirit award.

Baton, whistle, and Ann Lee make up a drum major who kept the Band straight.

Mary Pfluger, Alice Aanstoos, Janet Walker and Debbie Zieschang in "Show Case for Bands" gave an excellent half-time performance during football season.

... crowded in the instrument room ... playing at basketball games ... seniors directing the band ... given a hard time ... solo and ensemble contest ... unprepared recitals ... cramming the last week ... making 51 first divisions ... hard work paid off ... early sectionals ... concert ... practicing over and over "Masque," "Overture for Winds," and "Sunburst" ... San Antonio trip ... ending the year by having the seniors join in a special number at the commencement services.

Head Twirler, Carol Jackson, adds a little shine to her smile before a half time show.

Marching Contest at Westlake brought much anxiety as the Varsity Band made a II rating on an excellent performance.

Tension mounted as the Varsity Band waited for marching contest to begin.

Ginger Ripple takes off her mum after the game so she can add it to her bulletin board collection at home.

Band director Walter Whitlow helps as Joan Stelle eagerly tries on her senior jacket.

Tired after performing, Senior Jalane Wade pins her mum back on.

Mary Pfluger, Debbie Zieschang, Cindy Sorenson, Vickie Snider, Lupe Rodriguez, Duane Stoll, and Richard Flores received superior ratings for Class II solos.

Vicki Stafford dreams of what it would be like if all the twirlers ended all together with the music.

During the Homecoming Assembly the band members performed in the pit.

Twirling with two batons, Glynda Wade entertains football fans at half time.

Harmony and music naturally reign in the band with officers like these: Gary Ryan, vice-president; David Kautz, quartermaster; Tracy Whitlow, reporter; Ginger Ripple, secretary-treasurer; Sammy Ross, president; and Paul Johnson, assistant quartermaster.

Fourteen band members received Division ratings on Class I ensembles at contest. Carla Rohlack, Debbie Zieschang, and Debbie Krenek made up a flute ensemble. Horn ensemble included Ann Lee, Juanna Seale, Jay Bergstrom, and Charlotte Hardi. A clarinet choir was made up of Vicki Stafford, Pamela Black, Davida Bates, Joan Stolle, Pat Jansky, Debbie Kubala, and Charlotte Threadgill, Ann and Charlotte also received Division I ratings on Class I solos.

Smiling Junior twirler Denise Roznovak entertains the exes during Homecoming Assembly.

This typical group of girls Barbara Leshikar, Bonnie Lawler, Diana Lopez and Katherine Manley enjoy refreshments and relaxation after the Messiah.

Results Not Excuses

In choir all emotions are felt ... goals for great performances were set high, especially for the Messiah ... practice ... in the morning, at noon, even at night ... triumph of work: standing ovation for Hallelujah Chorus and a request for another performance ... harpsichord ... Christmas exes party ... contest ... blood, sweat and tears gave results, not excuses.

Clearly and loudly, Dennis Farr sang, "All they that see Him laugh him to scorn."

Practicing and more practicing is how Leandro Dominguez, Jan Wilson, Cary Prikryl and Charles Fuller spent much of their time.

The students that attended the University of Texas Men's Choir Clinic were: Terry Hughes, Dennis Farr, Rudy Olguin, Gary Hamilton, Harvy Hughes, Waymon Ross, Johnny Williams, Sam Ross, Don Hull, and Herbert Reese.

Bonnie Lawler says, "Relaxing is a rare thing in the choir room."

Thirteen students made I's on their solos at Contest: B. Brockington, J. Wilson, A. Lee, D. Lopez, D. Burow, J. Valla, P. Black, B. Rinderknecht, S. Schlinke, W. Ross, D. Farr, S. Ross, and J. Harrison. Not pictured is T. Hughes.

Ann Lee not only contributed her voice but her playing ability, too.

"I wonder if Issac Hayes ever had a day like this," thinks Herbert Reese.

It took Pam Black, James Bartosh, Vicki Stafford, Dennis Farr, Vicki Snider and Hannah Hooks to catch little Paul Kretzmeier.

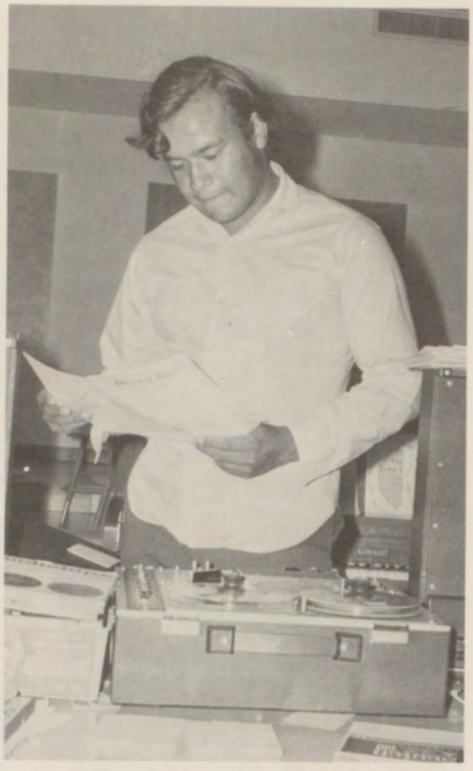

In the middle of a rehearsal Anita and Etta Gage found time for a break.

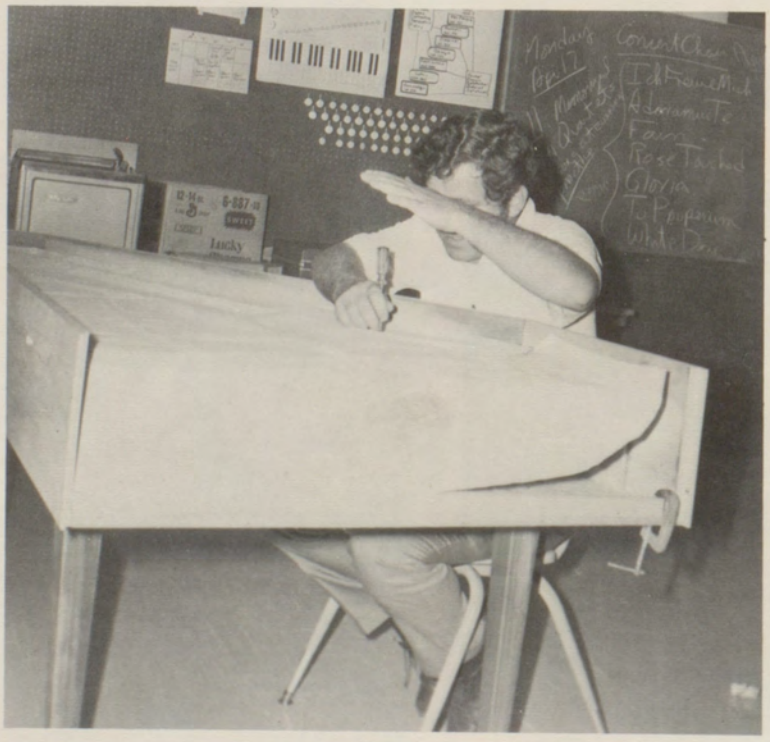

Becky Rinderknecht beams after finding her name on the All Regional Choir results.

"How did I get the soprano part?" wonders Harvey Hughes.

Listening to the tape, Pete Domingues follows his music.

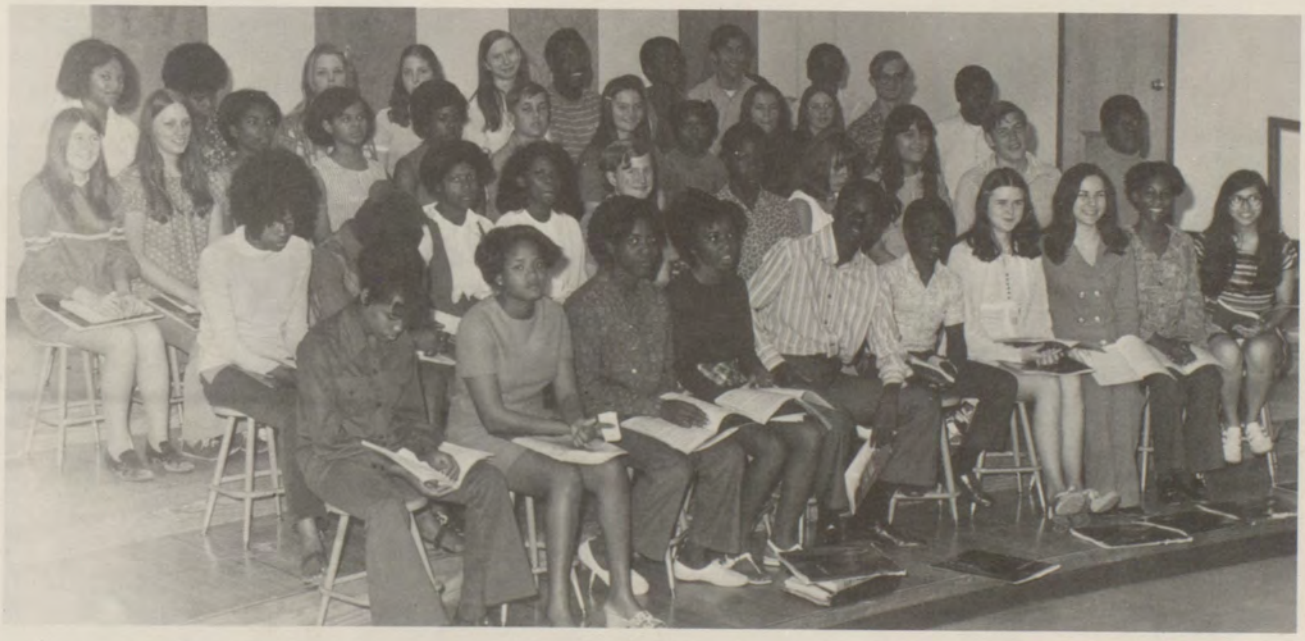

When no one's looking, Mr. K. adds a little German to the harpsicord.

Sponsors Mrs. Malinda Crow and Mrs. Joyce Quebe, accompanied by Mr. Jack Rambo, beamed after the Taylor chapter received two state trophies.

Attentive state delegates listen in on the election of officers.

First runner-up, for District Miss FTA, Carol Jackson spoke on "Unity Through Understanding."

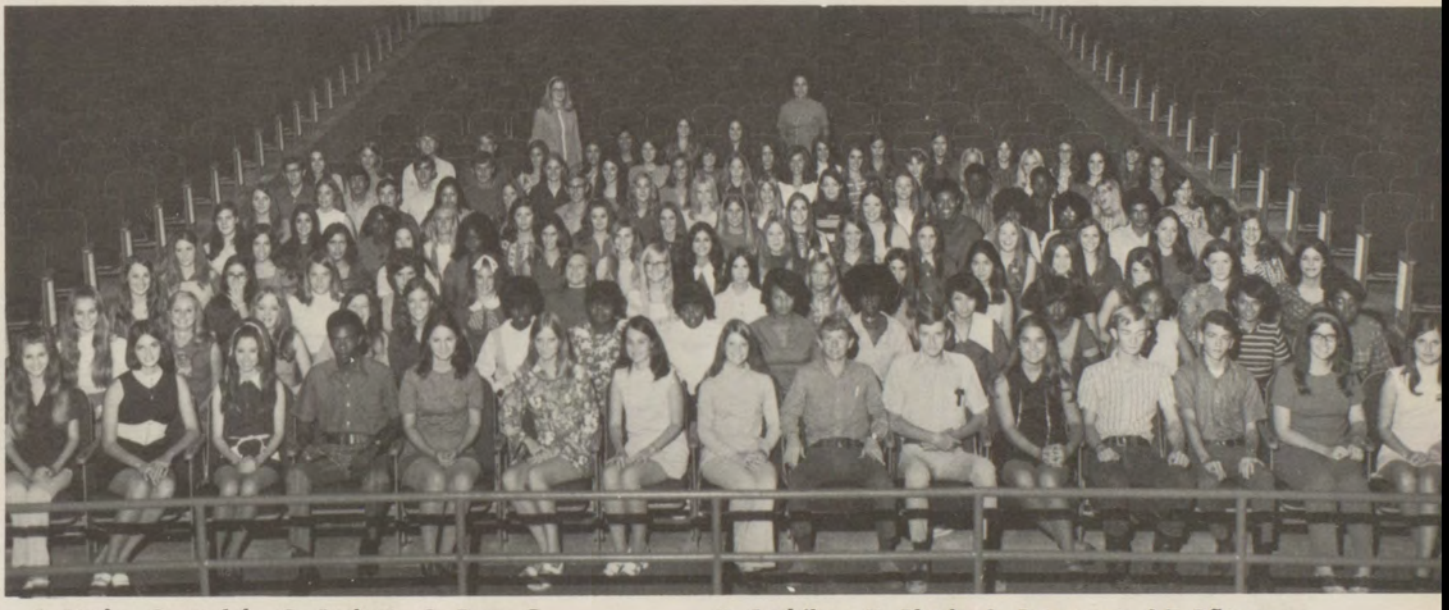

Surprised and happy, yearbook chairman Vicki Rose accepted the first place trophy.

Anxious to hear results about her campaign for district secretary, Charlotte Hardi waits with campaign manager Mary Pfluger.

District recording secretary Ginger Ripple carefully listens to the district parliamentarian.

As the campaigning comes to its climax, the district delegates remain loyal to the end - victory! A 'wise' campaign pays off.

Taylor girls presented a skit for District XIII's candidate for state office at the convention. The skit was a success, but the campaign wasn't.

Scrapbook chairman Debra Benskin excitedly accepts the district first place trophy.

Sammy Ross, state vice-president, presided over the awards ceremony at state convention.

Helping with the club's Valentine carnation sale are Cindy Loggins, treasurer; Becky Rinderknecht, president; Charlotte Hardi, historian; David Liles, vice-president; and Kay Stone, secretary. Not pictured is Paul Johnson, parliamentarian.

This year's state convention included more than just workshops and caucuses?

Los Vecinos: The Neighbors

Unselfishly giving of themselves, the Spanish Club assists the community as well as the school ... getting birthday gifts ready to take to the rest homes ... providing food at Thanksgiving to some needy family ... furnishing coffee for the teachers' lounge as a Christmas gift ... helping the Taylor Public Library by stuffing envelopes ... door to door Easter Seal Drive ... awarding a senior member with the Myrtle La Tanner Scholarship ... older members initiating first year Spanish students ... The whole community anxiously awaiting the annual chili supper ... Pan American Student Forum Convention ... finishing off the year with service and satisfaction.

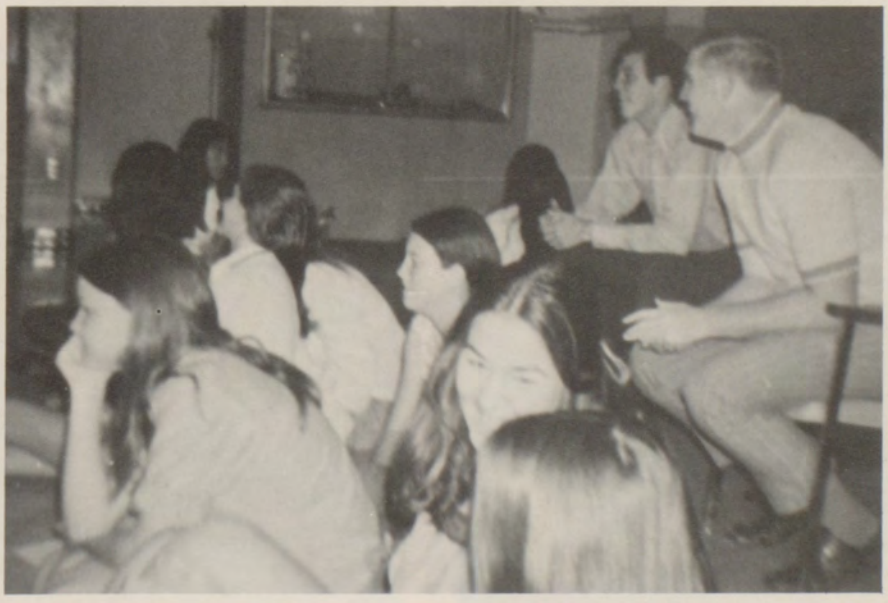

Syrisse Seale applies lipstick to her victim, Dawn Burow, at initiation.

Ava Weise blows hurriedly to be the first to pop her balloon.

"What time are we leaving for state convention?" Spanish club president Susan Daugherty helped coordinate the club's many fun and service projects.

Safely sitting on the floor, initiates laugh at the predicaments of others.

Football:

Ollie Stoglin cuts back to elude a Del Valle player after hauling in a pass.

A new head coach, new ideas, and a lofty spirit prevailed in the early weeks of August. Hard work and unity was transformed into the first winning football season Taylor had experienced in several years.

The shrill chirps of Coach Mayo's whistle ... bandaids and bruises ... warm up ... scrimmages ... the long bus drives ... all smiles and three straight victories ... pep rallies ... and sudden defeat at Belton midst sweat and finally tears.

Back to victory with a win over the Cardinals ... rumble on the sidelines ... miracle ending to a rough story tale at Lampasas: a last minute field goal ... Bulldogs end Duck spree 13-6 ... band puts on super half-time shows ... loud speaker echoes across the field.

Leading Duck defense, Gary Gossett prepares to dump a Cameron back.

Rick Pope, Greg Quebe, and Herbert Reese fight off would-be blockers to make a tackle.

Homecoming and T. H. Johnson day ... six beautiful girls ... tension eases with a comfortable lead ... then disaster and defeat ... bouncing back to spoil Rockdale's homecoming, 22-21 ... everybody around the buses ... bus drivers' chaos ... Reggie Turner drums up a total 238 yards.

The last day ... laying it on the line at Gatesville ... last game for seniors spoiled ... a 6-4 record ... pride and something to be proud of.

Charles Fuller, Ricky Pope, and Herbert Reese lead the team in tearing through a sign made by the Hi-Steppers.

Mike Aldridge takes a Lockhart player as Valery Jackson gains yardage.

Tommy Parker prepares to stop a Copperas Cove runner.

| Taylor | 20-6 | Del Valle | Taylor | 14-28 | Gatesville |

Stopping a Rockdale Tiger, Charles Fuller, Mark Krueger, and Danny Kaspar go up to make the play.

Taking in a short pass, Alan Teichelman turns it into good yardage against Copperas Cove.

Reggie Turner throws up interference for Scott Wilkerson against Georgetown.

Mickey Reichenbach goes high and scores for two important points against Lockhart.

Don Hull puts in two needed points against Del Valle, as Mickey Reichenbach, Herbert Reese and Dennis Gage anxiously watch.

Dennis Gage dribbles past a Del Valle player.

Herbert Reese forces his way through two Del Valle players.

Pat Wheeless watches and waits for the ball to be passed to him.

Basketball

One of the best records in the state ... 29-4 ... brand new coach ... one returning letterman ... "Basket, basket - Mickey made a basket" ... ability ... poise ... winning three tournaments ... slow down, best shot tactics ... Del Valle breaking a 20-game winning streak ... getting revenge with a 71-48 victory in a sardine - packed gym ... a district title ... "We're number one" ... Gage, Hull, and Reichenbach receiving all district honors ... Bi-district playoff ... a technical call ... their winning shot coming with 0:00 on the clock ... ending the season with a frustrating 40-42 loss to Cuero.

Reggie Turner looks on as the Ducks move the ball in for two points.

The T. H. S. scoreboard reflects the Cardinals fate at the end of regulation time.

Alan Teichelman prepares to work the ball into the Duck's revolving offense.

Dale Moehnke wades through the crowds of fans after the Del Valle game.

STATE CHAMPS

Straight to the top ... (couldn't be stopped) ... taking in field ... batting practice ... slow beginning ... strong ending ... Ducks in their new pin stripe, double knit uniform ... consolation at Lockhart tournament ... "We have each other's slack." ... stealing bases ... the throw to first ... a grand slam ... "Strike three, you're out." ... Coach Krueger, a source of energy and encouragement ... edging by Lockhart ... running over Copperas Cove ... dodging wild throws ... sometimes not in time ... the trip to Edinburg ... a long ride and long hours ... Darrell Haag cracking bats and bringing in runs ... breathing tight through 10 innings with Jasper ... at state playoffs, fans rising to the occasion ... Steve Cornell pitching his way out of a scary sixth inning ... Mickey Reichenbach's run turning a skinny lead into a sure thing ... knowing we were No. 1 ... proving we were No. 1.

Jerry Tallas proves that Taylor is a power hitting team.

And sometimes Coach David Krueger 'goes to bat' for the team.

The Bobsey Twins at work.

Winning hurler Steve Cornell made a fine showing in the state play-off.

Track Champions

What makes the runner look for agony in track? To stride till his legs quiver and strain till his lungs out-pace his heart? Maybe to create a self-expression from pain and stress. Only he knows for sure. And if not, he is searching for the answer.

In total exhaustion after victory, Don Hull reflects the strain involved in running the 440-yd dash.

Valery Jackson twists over the bar during the high jump.

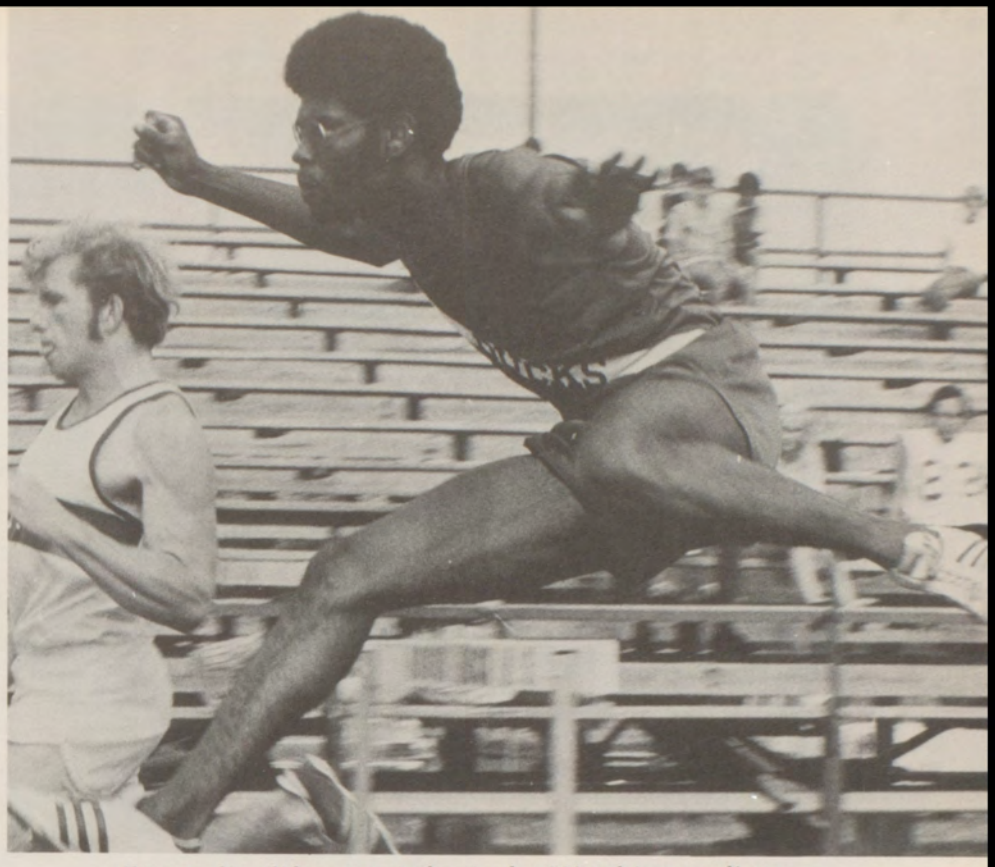

Alan Farr lopes through the string to win his heat in the hurdles.

State Meet
May 5, 1972

Don Hull - 1st - 440 yd. dash
Ollie Stoglin - 4th - broad jump
Herbert Reese - 5th - 120 yd. hurdles
Valery Jackson, Herbert, Reggie Turner, Don - 8th - 440 yd. relay

Ollie Stoglin glides over timber in the 330-yd intermediates.

Herbert Reese strains to beat his opponent to the string as he charges out the final yards in the 120-yd hurdles.

Rick Pope loosens up before he throws the discus.

Reggie Turner strides through the finish during the preliminaries of the District meet.

Paul Santa Cruz reaches for a first place finish in the freshman division of the District meet.

VARSITY TRACK

KNEELING:
Reggie Turner, Gary Gossett

Willie Deary strains to clear the bar in the high jump at District.

Bennette Davison breaks the string, winning her heat in the 100-yd. dash.

In its first year at Taylor, girls' track took big strides ... placing in pre-district meets ... making finals in district ... Willie Deary 7th at regional in high jump.

Terrie Holmstrom waits for a shot that will give her and Syrisse the Girls' Doubles District Title.

Showing grace and form, Syrisse Seale and Terrie waded through competition at District.

Bob Barkley anticipates his opponents' return as partner Mark Weber returns an important volley to help them win the District Boys' Doubles Title.

Tennis

Repeating past glories ... hard work and long afternoons ... practice meets and 11-0 team record ... girls outdoing boys in individual matches, 63-12 ... boys matches, 57-19 ... attended New Branusfels meet ... practice paying off ... took overall win at Taylor meet ... District champions ... fine showing in Regional with five entries.

Golf

All Campus Beauty Review

As the Mallard staff presented the All Campus Beauty Review, it was indeed "a night of firsts." It was a night of ... My Fair Lady ... dancing with umbrellas ... "smile and look at the judges" ... street clothes fading into formals ... Mr. and Miss THS announcement ... goodfellows ... organ music ... finalists chosen ... tension mounting ... announcement of runners up ... everyone picking a winner ... then a sigh of relief ... and a winner ... Theresa Seale.

Appearing for the first time in the Beauty Review, the 25 finalists danced to the theme of "My Fair Lady."

Putting her best foot forward, Mary Pfluger models formal wear.

Smiling at the judges, the finalists, Janet Polzin, Margaret Urbanek, Jalane Wade, Theresa Seale, Debby Clark, Pam Black, Marsha Krueger, Diane Strmiska, Marla Zott, and Connie Wade, nervously wait for the emcee's questioning.

Diane Strmiska first runner-up, Theresa Seale, All Campus Beauty, and Connie Wade, second runner-up, proudly display their roses and trophies.

Astonished upon being named All Campus Beauty, Theresa Seale looks in disbelief toward the emcee.

Backstage Becky Rinderknecht and Judy Jefferson relieve tension by chatting with other finalists.

Freshmen

CLASS OFFICERS: Wheeler Spires, president; Larry Whatley, vice-president; Terri Holmstrom, secretary; Judy Jackson, treasurer; Chris Wright, parliamentarian; Ricky Gray, reporter.

This first year in high school brought many trials, tribulations, and even achievements ... finding your locker ... learning the combination ... trying to catch a ride to practice ... wooden homecoming sign ... torture of initiations ... noisy class meetings ... car washes ... cadet band ... getting your FFA jacket ... Cotton Boll Relays ... wishing you were sixteen.

It is bad enough having to bake it, but ...

Walter Brister showed this prize-winning steer at one of the many livestock shows he entered.

Freshmen often found it difficult to keep their minds on English when there were so many distractions.

I think this car was cleaner when we started. .

I'm only testing it.

We are practicing ... twiddling our thumbs.

Rolling in the cash with a bake sale, Freshmen strive to get their candidate elected Cotton Boll Relay Queen.

ESTABLISHMENT '72

The Establishment

During the three years in which Mr. Joe Scrivner has been superintendent of schools, he has introduced many new programs to improve the educational process.

TAYLOR BOARD OF EDUCATION: Mr. Albert Buzan, Mr. Fred Switzer, Mr. T. W. Holmstrom, vice president; Mr. Leon Bohls, president; Mr. Dale Cummings, Mr. Crawford Daniel, and Mr. Wilbur Reichenbach, secretary.

"Those collectively who occupy positions of influence and status in a society." ... "May I have your attention please" ... "It's a school board policy" ... an experiment in communication between the students, teachers, parents and administration ... "I'm sorry to interrupt this class but we have these announcements" ... willingness to listen ... on the agenda for tonight's meeting ... is the dress code ... "Would the following students please come to the office."

The 1972 school year marked the 16th year Mr. Howard Oliphint has served the students, faculty, and citizens as principal.

Miss Velma Loeve is personal secretary to Mr. Oliphint, but she also helps students and faculty members who need her assistance.

Assistant principal and director of curriculum and instruction, Mr. Ross Baldwin always finds time to smile and call students by name.

Faculty

Being a teacher involves so much more than just teaching classes: In Service Days ... registration ... learning names and procedures ... lesson plans ... grading papers ... hall duty ... sponsoring classes and clubs ... long hours ... PTA meetings ... TCTA meetings ... faculty meetings ... meetings, meetings, meetings ... filling out grade sheets ... enforcing rules and regulations ... enjoying school activities ... even winning a spirit award ... relaxing in the lounge ... studying and preparing for classes ... and always learning as much from students as we teach them.

Mr. Charles Schroeder explains strategy used in the faculty basketball game to his new bride.

Mrs. Judie Gustafson, Mallard sponsor, gives Beauty Review judges last minute instructions backstage.

At one of their many meetings, Mrs. Bobbie Nickerson, Mrs. Mrytle Wood, Mrs. Jeanne Sherry and Mr. Dan Sherry discuss new ideas in teaching.

Coach R. C. Smith spends some free time in the teachers' lounge.

TOMORROW
IS EARLIER THAN YOU THINK . . .

Time has a way of slipping by quickly. Particularly when it comes to saving money for important purposes, such as your children's education. When they stand proudly to receive that coveted high school diploma, what then? Where will the money come from for the pursuit of a higher education?

From us ... if you start a regular save-for-education program today. You'll be surprised how only a small deposit every week ... or two weeks will blossom into a sizable amount to enable your children to embark upon the road to a higher education. Start your children's save-for-education program with us today, so that tomorrow's education will take care of itself.

From grade school to graduation ... for the student a seemingly endless amount of time, but to the parents a time that passes all too quickly, especially if they are not financially prepared for their child's higher education.

Mallard People Are All Fired Up!

The people are gone and only the memories remain ... memories of crowded hallways ... computer report cards ... deciding football games in the last few minutes ... pep rallies which left something to be desired ... the band echoing school spirit ... door decorating contests ... getting away a frustrating loss to Cuero ... debating, persuading, informing ... Messiah ... an "All Campus Beauty" ... stage shows ... intramurals ... a No. 1 Cotton Bowl ... good fellows ... everyone speaking out at PTA ... to have a school prom or not to have a school prom ... that was the question ... the answer was no ... sprinting our way to the state track meet ... pangs of pelunch hunger ... fixing cars and building houses ... music in the student center ... scoring a state baseball championship ... longer hair ... looking ahead to '73 ... these memories will never fade ... because the Mallard never forgets ... 1972 ... AS IT WAS.
