HEAR US ROAR

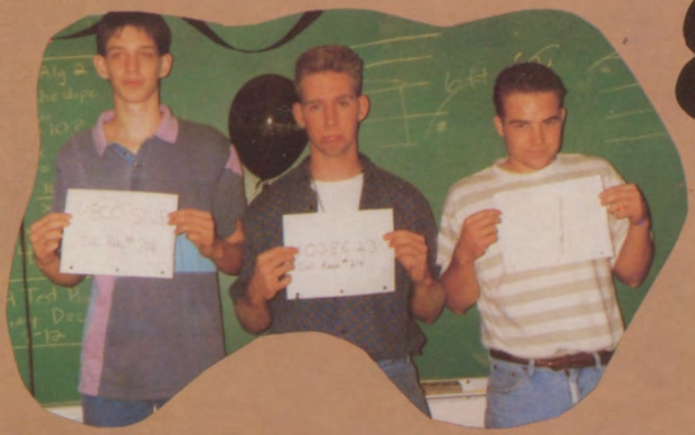

Ugh ola nim nim! Inga uba Mallardum so fefe? Ooohh, now me get it. You Taylor Duck not speak Jungle Duck's language so good. That OK. Me slow down. I say, "Welcome yearbook-lookers!" How you like this year's Mallard so far? Last year, three large-haired wahinis come to Jungle Duck's cave and ask me to show you around. I say yes, but only if I get to be on cover. (Mrs. Parsons say it OK but just not in ceremonial loincloth and headdress. I compromise. Not so bad a deal.)

Now is the time to explain why the yearbook putter-togethers chose me to be your guide. You see Jungle Duck was once just a little-bitty Jungle Duck four years ago. Since I came to live here, I have swung on many vines. Some of them I could not reach at first, but as I learned how to climb trees, they did not seem so hard to grasp. Some of the vines I swung on took me to beautiful and exciting places. Some of them broke while me fly through the air. Me thinks the Mallard people ask me to be your guide because me know everything there is to know about vine-swinging. And now I will show you how to do it.

I must tell you first, however, that the jungle is full of vines. You can swing in any direction you like. But please try not to get lost; sometimes it's hard to find your way back. I will make deal with you. Since we are all nice Ducks, if one of us gets lost, let's roar really loud like an elephant or a lion so that all our fellow native Ducks can find us or share in our discovery. The jungle may be full of mayhem, but we are Ducks! Hear Us Roar!

The Jungle Buddy System

Friends always play a big part in our lives. High school friendships are extremely valuable because we need that special someone to tell our secrets, to spend time with, and to help us with our problems. When the stress of everything starts to kick in, our friends are always there.

Our high school years include some of our best memories. Those we treasure most are the places we attend with our friends — ball games, parties, and the place we are all bound to make a friend, class. Even though it isn't easy being friends all the time, we manage to stick together somehow. We learn each others' bad habits, and we learn how to cope with them.

What lies ahead remains uncertain, but the friends we made will never be forgotten. We may take different paths, but somewhere, somehow, the joy and closeness we share now will bring us back together.

▲ While waiting for the bell to ring for the next class Jesse Sandoval, Eric Hunt, and Terry Simien discuss current events in their lives.

▲ ▲ These stud friends Brad Schmidt, Jon Manning, Kyle Maruska, and Travis Winkler show their support for the Ducks by dressing in this unique way for the pep rallies.

▲ ▲ ► What are you two up to? Stephen Dykowski and Chris Godwinare true friends helping each other toilet paper lockers for halloween.

▲ ▲ ▲ ► Quit dipping in our business! Rebecca Kautz, Kathy Baker, Melissa Lawrence, and Andrea Mokry take time to chill and discuss the scoop before class.

▲ ► "Hey, it's not so bad being a freshman!" Brennan Carlson and Laura Gossett remain good friends during their first year at high school.

HOMECOMING

Although there were many changes in the pep rally schedule, the students seemed to keep their energy kicking. SURF sponsered a MORP dance to pep up spirit the Saturday before Homecoming. The spirit walk became the spirit rally that was held Thursday night on the practice field. Students gathered around to watch our school letters burn as the band played the fight song. Drama Club presented a skit "Homecoming Jeopardy" for former THS students.

Crazy contests and silly string filled the air as cheerleaders, Hi-Steppers, and football players entertained the student body in the high school gym for the Homecoming pep rally.

Every little girl's dream came true for Ruby Torres when she was crowned Homcoming Queen.

"When they announced the Queen, I was really proud and excited to be chosen. Homecoming 1992 will always be a memorable day for me," said Ruby Torres 1992 Homcoming Queen.

History was made when Anna Riggs was announced the third Princess.

"They had already announced two princesses and then they said there was going to be a tie. I hoped it was me, but I never thought it would be," Anna said.

Princesses included Anna Riggs, Brandi Marek, and Jennifer Hubble.

Even though our team did not have a winning score against the Lockhart Lions (26-6), Duck football players will always be winners in our hearts.

Happenin' Hair

Happenin' hair and funky fashion filled the halls at Taylor High this year. Diversity in both hair and fashion provided an air of uniqueness for all students.

Blue jeans and denim coordinates dominated the overall fashion scheme while in the hair department, permed styles contrasted with the straight, glossy look. Even on a "Bad Hair Day," students managed to shape their misbehaved hair into a most interesting hairstyle. Vavoom came to the rescue! Fashion, however, always flashed because it revealed each student's unique personality.

Besides denim, plaid, suede, leather, flannel, and silk also ruled the fashion scene. Boots, whether they were suede, up to the knee, lace-up, or just plain cowboy style, definitely set a fashion trend. Students also wore collegiate or pro sports gear to support their favorite teams. Likewise, Starter jackets were extremely popular with die-hard fans.

Hair was fun this year. Long or short, permed or straight, every style revitalized and volumized the exciting hair scene. We, at Taylor High, knew how to dress fashionably and to style hair creatively. Students took pride in their appearances, always striving to look their best. From seniors to freshmen, and juniors to sophomores, happenin' hair was everywhere.

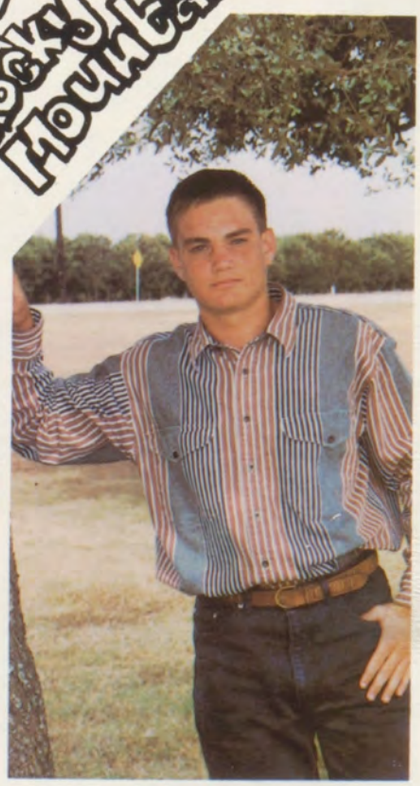

Throughout the action-packed year, students avoided fashion and hair no-nos but enjoyed setting new trends or styles. Their enthusiasm ensured happenin' hair and funky fashion year round at Taylor High.

ASPHALT JUNGLE

My pulse races as I get the signal to go. My foot mashes the accelerator and I dart down the runway barely beating my opponent, time. The time is fifteen past eight. I walk through the door just as the tardy bell rings. I breathe a sigh of relief and take my seat in the back of the room. I promise myself to leave the house earlier next time. I can't help but laugh when I realize I said the same thing yesterday, and will probably say it again tomorrow.

We all depend a great deal upon our cars whether we drive a souped up sports car, a mid-sized yuppie-mobile, a battleship, or just an old clunker. Whatever shape she's in, old Bessie gets us to school and back plus does our weekend running. I think I'm going to treat her to new plugs and points. She deserves it.

Pets

Ssss. . .Ruff, Ruff. . .Meow, Meow. . .are just a few sounds students like to hear when they come home. Dogs are said to be a guy's best friend and diamonds are a girl's best friend, but in most cases any pet maybe considered as a best friend. Pets are great companions to have because they brighten up their owner's day, and they are always there to hear their owner's problems. Pets have a great deal of influence on their owner's life. Some pets are the only thing a person has, and some pets are just something to play with and have fun with. Some pets are used for money-makers and some pets are given as presents. There is also another side of pets that is hardly ever thought about — a great deal of taking care of them and meeting their needs. All pets have needs for being fed and being looked after. Mainly, a pet needs a caring home. Some pets make trusty companions. Some pets are used for guarding the house while others are used in a person's job. Pets are all too often thought of just laying around the house or shop, but that's not true as you can see. There are many different kinds of pets that you can have. Some kinds are: dogs, cats, snakes, lizards, rocks, horses, rabbits, fish, aardvarks, ostriches, spiders, and ducks. The most common ones are dogs, cats, and horses, but all are great to have. Pets are a wonderful and exciting thing to experience in one's life.

DUCK STYLE THS

LEADERSHIP

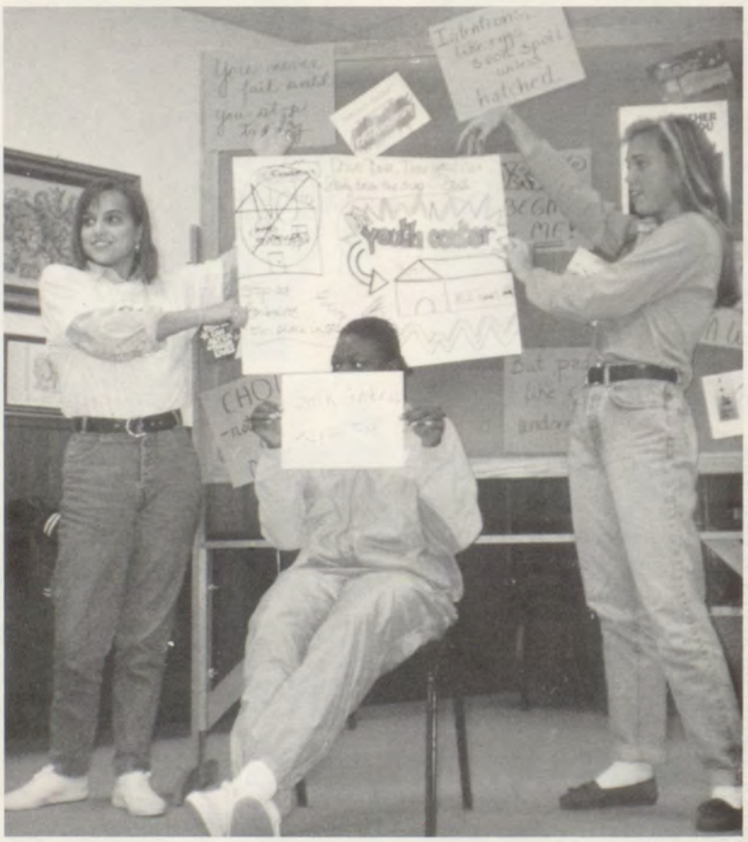

"You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet" blasted through the walls of Trinity Lutheran Church on November 19, 1992, as the THS Leadership Retreat got underway. And guys, you "ain't seen nothin' yet" if you haven't seen the powerful motivation and energy these radiant teenagers exposed at the conference. Leadership starts with dedicated people working continuously to provide encouragement and pave the way for their peers. Especially at THS, leadership is abundant. One doesn't have to be President of the U.S. or an executive of a prestigious company to have what it takes to be a leader. All it takes is a little sacrifice, compromise and determination to make things work. Many of our students possess these qualities, and therefore, they are often chosen to lead the way. Without leadership, who would have the guts or initiative to start a new organization or even stand up for what our students need or desire to be happy and fit in at this school? So, the next time you find yourself waiting for others to make the first move, think about it. Everyone can follow, but it takes somebody special to be a true leader. Maybe you can be one.

SENIORS

As they looked back on the past four years of high school, the Senior class of 1993 had mixed emotions. While many students anxiously awaited graduation, others dreaded leaving their friends and the secure environment of THS. People's plans after graduation were also varied — from entering the work field to going off to pursue a Ph.D. at a big university. Some were scared of starting over or entering the "real world".

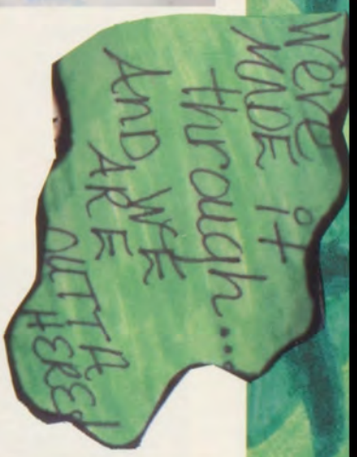

However, what is the real world? Do you mean to tell me that all of this time we've been living in a fake world? The real world is analyzed by many who try to come up with the perfect definition of the real world. But students should be individuals, and face the future with excitement and anticipation. They should come up with their own definitions. Whatever the case, the real world is not to be feared. It represents a world of opportunities and responsibilities left to be experienced. The real world opens it's doors every year at graduation to initiate new citizens. The class of '93 will pass these doorways, move on with their lives, and often remember the unique and cherished memories of their years at THS.

Looking back on the euphoric feeling of turning in our last scholarship form and final research paper (at this school anyway), the Seniors can smile and hold on to those memories as long as possible. The memoris of THS should have a special place in the hearts and minds of the Seniors of 1993 as we leave these halls and journey into the real world.

A Little Bit Older Now

Now that we're a little bit older, we have to start preparing ourselves for the "real" jungle. Graduation was a night long awaited by each and every senior. Our 13 years of education were finally done. We were supposed to be looking on to bigger and brighter things. We were now on the road to our future, some of us, destination unknown. Despite some difficulty in deciding which path to take, we tried to make the best choice. Some chose to go straight to work, while others psyched themselves up for yet another five or six years of school. Graduation brought about mixed emotions and the beginning of a new life in a new world. This new world will offer us exciting opportunities, choices and challenges. And like our marbles, we will all make choices and become unique individuals.

I hope the world is ready for us because the Seniors of 1993 have a lot to offer. We're a little bit older now, a little bit wiser now, and a little more ready to face the road ahead.

"Each senior will be carrying a marble. . ." Senior Class President, Kari Caplinger performs her final duty, welcoming everyone at graduation.

▲ ▲ ► The dance of joy! Victor Carranza knows he holds his ticket "outa here"!!
▲ When can we throw our hats in the air? One section of seniors awaits the ceremony to begin.

Been waitin' for this hat and tassle!! Ronnie Woods shows off his graduation attire.

Two jolly green giants and three little sprouts. Mike Turner, Ruby Torres, Erendida Torres, Coty Taylor, and Charles Taylor proudly walk down the track.

YES!! I'm holding this tight so that no one can steal it!! Gordon Cabaniss makes a fast getaway with his diploma!

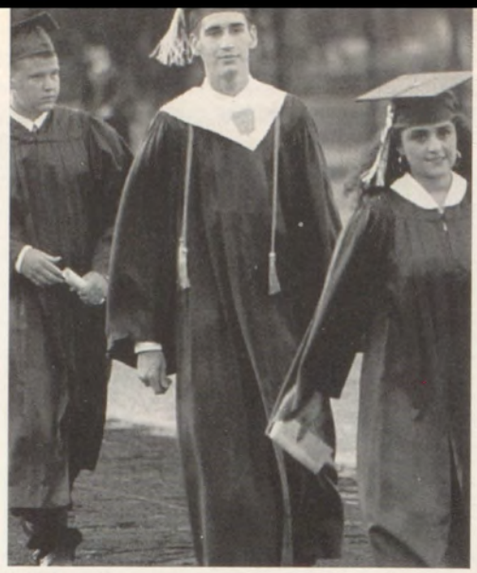

Daa, Da Da Da Daaa Daaa. . . Melanie and Misty Laurence step to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance".

Carousel of Dreams

Prom 1993
Carousel of Dreams
TAS Student Center
May 1, 1993

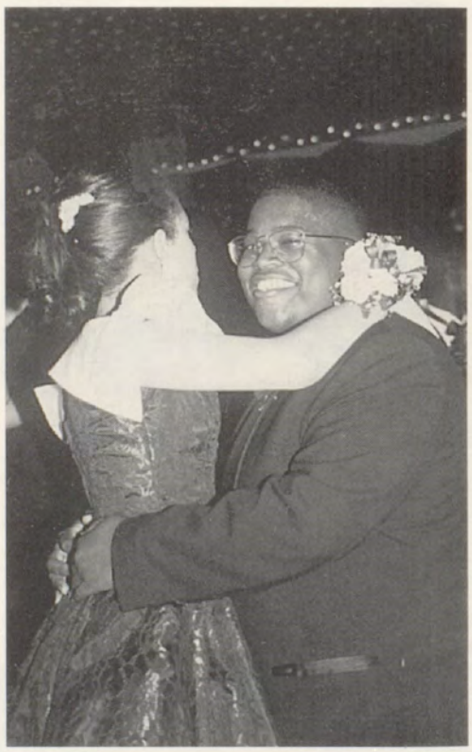

We are always amazed at the magical transformation of Taylor High's student center on prom night. This year "Carousel of Dreams" was the theme. A rotating carousel graced the center of the room while horses lined the walls.

Even though we all dressed with care, once the music hit us, we chunked our shoes and purses, our hair fell down, bow ties came off, and soon we all looked normal. When the magic was over, all that was left of Prom 1993 was the pictures we'd pick up in 2-3 weeks. Oh yeah, and we still have all the great memories.

◄ Bret Safarik is twisting her arm but Monee Reichenbach isn't fighting to get away.
► Yes the Dairy King is smoothe . . . . Wilber King finesses his date on the dance floor.
▼ ◄ One of the women behind it all . . . Prom 1993 by Kaye Schaefer. She deserves an award.
▼ Lady in Red . . . is dancing with Matt Sutton. Alice Hejl and date pause for a quick snap.
▼ ► Thrilled not to have been asked to take pictures Bradley Hargis was overjoyed to accompany Vanessa Mokry to prom.

▲ Prom isn't just for kids anymore. Mrs. Kalbaugh and hubby enjoy a quiet moment at the entrance.
► Our last prom . . . . This group of seniors paused for one last picture to commemorate the evening.

▼ All dressed up and no place to go but prom. Eric Hunt, Becca Barron, and Catherine Raesz are immortalized forever in this yearbook.
► This happy couple prefers to spectate from the sidelines. Kerri Kropp and Shane Pavlicek catch a breather under the vents.

◄ "No . . . . YOU were supposed to leave the tip!" Juniors Lori Grimm and Jason Bland discuss the technicalities of dinner.

◄ Smoothly dressed, Clemente Suarez made off with the Prom King's crown.
▼ Looking beautiful in basic black, Dolores Suarez was named Prom Queen.

The Junior Expedition

We set out on our long journey through our junior year with high spirits and eager hearts. Braving our way through the thicket of classes would be no easy task, but together we knew we could overcome any obstacle. Our only defense against the ferocious English, Math, and Science was the mighty pencil and paper and, of course, the secret weapon. . .our minds.

We explored new frontiers and crossed dangerous territory, always coming out on top. Things got slightly rocky through Mrs. Parsons' research papers, but we did survive. Next we faced the treacherous pitfalls of prom preparation, and again, we escaped unscathed and had fun, too! We are targeting the savage SAT next, but we're confident its bark is worse than its bite.

All in all we've learned a lot, and although we know this expedition has put us through some very difficult times, we have also had a lot of fun and made many memories. Most importantly we realized that if we ban together we will reach new heights in the challenges of next year's expedition.

Cruisin' Through the Jungle

Well, you probably thought you would never make it through your freshman year, but you did. Now you're going on to be a junior. But this past year was one of the most important years of your life. Many of your memories will come from this year because you were no longer thought of as the little fish in the great big pond. You got your driver's license! You're free for life(at least you have some sense of freedom.) You may have heard that your sophomore year was going to be your hardest. But it wasn't that hard, was it? Maybe there were a few classes that were a little tough, and they made you think about giving up. You have to admit that those hard times were the farthest from your minds when it came to having fun at the football and basketball games. But you stuck it out and made it through those hard times. Just remember that the hard times are always followed by some fun times. You just have to stay together like a flock of ducks and work all your problems out together.

The First Steps in the Jungle

The first steps of something new and unknown can often be the most difficult. Many freshmen feared and even dreaded the first day of high school, but after surviving the first few weeks, they knew that they were in for the times of their lives. As the year progressed further, their doubts passed, and the excitement of newfound freedom and friendships overflowed. The jungle quickly transformed into a friendly place they called "home" for a few hours each school-day. Throughout the year, they discovered the true high school experience. As the year came to a close, they realized how much growth and maturity each one of them had experienced. They remembered the silly times at the basketball games when they dissed the opposing team with their newspapers and cherished those memories deep within their hearts. They then knew it was time to forge ahead and clear the edge of the jungle for the next group of rookies. As the freshmen reflected on the year for the last time, they realized that this had been the most exciting year of their lives.

Kings of The Jungle

The faculty at Taylor High School has always been a very special group of individuals. Every day, no matter what, they have braved the halls of Taylor High to encourage and help all of us. They have done everything in their power to make us feel good about ourselves and raise our morale! Even when the halls were sort of scary, they were there to pull us through yet another day. Often, they were what made us want to get up and come to school. It wasn't the assignments that taught us, but the teachers that not only helped us to learn, but served as our friends, psychologists and parents for seven hours or more every day(..not to mention the tutoring sessions and the extra time after school they put in to help us through our classes, especially during exams!). No matter what type of problem we had, whether it was a research paper or a personal problem, we could always count on and feel comfortable talking to one of the many caring teachers that we were privileged to have had. We loved all of them! Thanks for putting up with us for so long.

JUNGLE GYM

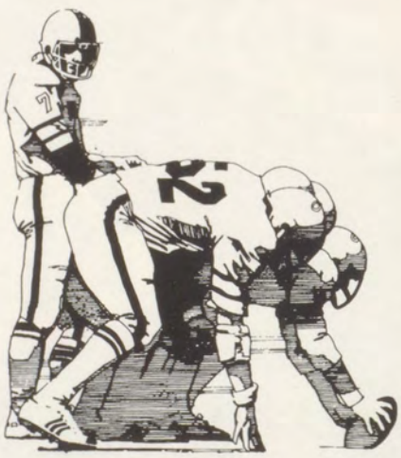

The BATTLEFIELD

The season started during the unbearable heat of the mid-August sun. The time had arrived for the leaders to step up and prepare for the gruelling, yet hopeful season. Coach Schroeder counted the number of senior football players he could rely on for leadership. With only eleven seniors, the team needed the entire junior class's help in becoming motivated for the grind of the long season which we hoped would end in a playoff berth.

With the start of the first game growing ever so close, everyone was tired of hearing how winning the first game would start us on our journey through the season. Since the game was played in Taylor, the time had come to demonstrate our true ability. The final score of that game was Taylor 21, McCallum 0. The team appeared ready to redeem themselves to our school and community. Due to bad luck, our non-district record was 1-4.

We hoped that with the start of district our luck would change. Sadly, this wasn't going to be our year either. After two gut-wrenching defeats in district, the game against Waco University turned our fortunes around. We played a great second-half, but still came up short.Our last home game against Georgetown proved to be our best game of the season. The game wasn't decided until the final two minutes. Taylor led 7-6 when our short punt was fumbled by a Georgetown player and Taylor recovered the ball. We ran the final minutes of the clock as the crowd rushed onto the field to celebrate. It doesn't matter what anybody says because Taylor will be back next year. I guarantee!

The NATRAKS

The time finally arrived for the grueling two-a-day practices to start. As freshman, we were anxious to showcase our skills. Of course, the upperclassmen told us horror stories of leg cramps, sore muscles, thirst, and nonstop sprints. Nevertheless, we made it through the long practices and intense heat. When we played our final game, our record stood at 8 wins and 2 losses.

When the JV team began the season, we all knew that this team had plenty of talent. Little did we realize that we would launch a serious charge for the district title. Even though we didn't win district, our record was a very impressive series of wins and losses.

I hope everyone in our district will be looking out for the Ducks in 1993 because next year they'll be ready to settle a few old scores.

SPIKE 'em DOWN

The volleyball season started this year with many high hopes. With most of the players having varsity experience, the girls knew that expectations would be higher this year. The team began to come together this year as a team consisting of mainly sophomores and juniors. As the year progressed, one could see the confidence grow in every team member. "We didn't have a great year, but we did beat Georgetown for the first time in five years," said Dominique Pack, the team's only senior. That victory is a victory that will help the team in the years to come. The Georgetown game was a much needed morale booster for the whole program. Although the team didn't receive much recognition as a whole, many individual honors were handed out. Dominique Pack was selected to the all-district team by the coaches as an outside hitter. She was joined on the all-district by 2nd team member Christi Schneider and Honorable Mention member Bethany Carlson. With a solid nucleus returning next year, the Lady Ducks should be stronger than ever and something to watch out for.

SPIKE IT UP

The Junior Varsity is the training grounds for the varsity in every sport, and volleyball is no exception. Likewise, the JV has to work every bit as hard in practice and be just as dedicated as the varsity. In addition, they are constantly reminded that they are already being watched by the coaches and judged about their possible spot on the varsity team next year.

This year the JV's record didn't tell the whole story. "Although we didn't win a lot, we were close in most of our games and had a lot of fun along the way," said sophomore Tanya Holub. This statement was very true, but if you look closely at the JV scores, you see that the girls really hung tough with many top quality opponents, however, they were not able to get those last few needed points to win the games. It was a year of learning, and the experience was invaluable.

One very promising aspect of volleyball this year was the return of the Freshman Team. With enough girls we were able to field three teams. The freshmen did a good job this year. They were able to pull off some fantastic upsets. With these girls, the future of Taylor volleyball seems to be in good hands.

DA SKILLS

Due to injuries and a lack of depth, the varsity basketball team limped out of the starting gate with a 1-5 record after the first six games. Steadily, we improved our play with each coming game. At the midpoint of our season the team finally found its chemistry and our record finally reflected it. When the pre-district season came to a close, our record stood at 13 wins and 7 losses.

Tough times lay ahead due to the loss of a few key role players. Nevertheless, varsity rolled straight ahead into district play. The guys were determined to take the next step toward the playoffs. Through pure luck they managed to have every district home game on Friday nights so naturally they had a strong crowd at their backs at every game.

The varsity's final record, 17-13, showed that even with a lack of depth and experience, our team gave everyone a run for their money. The team came in fourth place in district with a 4-6, not bad for a team picked to finish last in district. Several players earned the respect of their opponents by being voted to the All-District Team: Alvin Collins, Chris Godwin, Charles Taylor, and Jerry Krebs (Honorable Mention).

COURT FORCE

Depending upon the way one looks at the girls' past season one can infer many different ideas of how the season went for the Lady Ducks. This past season could be viewed as a rebuilding year for the team. Taylor put a very young team on the court. With only three seniors returning, the underclassmen were heavily relied upon by Coach Gerald Jones.

The girls started the year with several key wins including a second place finish in the Taylor Tournament. Unfortunately, with the arrival of district play, they once again found themselves in a district stacked with perennial powers, Waco Midway Georgetown, and new kids on the power block, Belton. They struggled throughout district play and finished with one win. One of the good points of the season was that since the team consisted mostly of underclassmen, they all learned valuable experience which will come in handy next year.

The Lady Ducks will be ready in the future. With the maturing of the team's nucleus and team chemistry for the most part set for next year, the team should look forward to the next season. Most likely, they will be able to play with and hopefully beat the top teams in district.

The YOUNG DUCKS

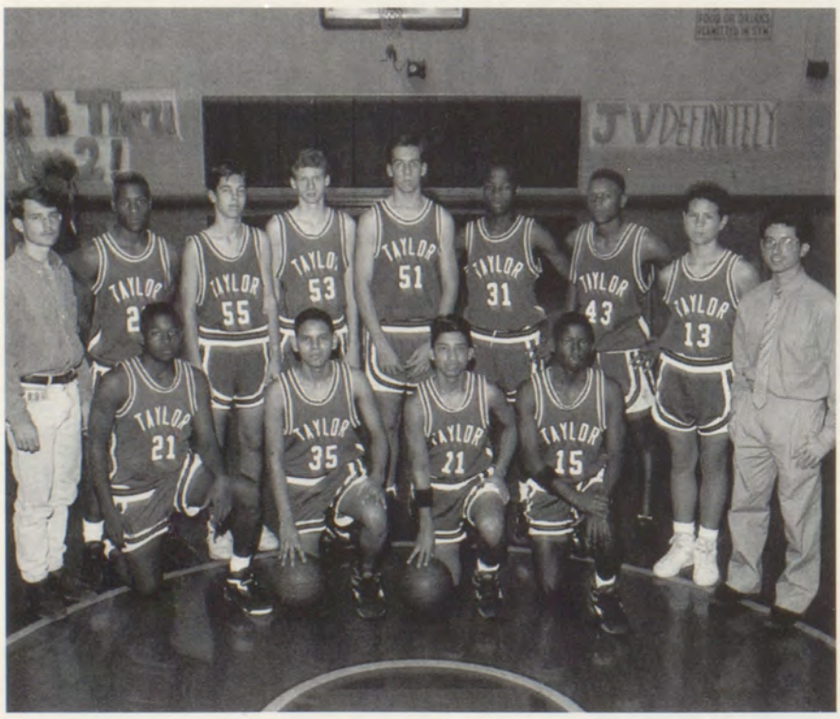

This season began a little slow for the Junior Varsity Ducks. At the end of their first three games, their record was 0-3. Suddenly, all the pieces began to fit together and the JV pulled off an amazing 11 game winning streak which included several important victories. When district play began a couple of key players were moved to Varsity and the team quickly compensated for their loss. Another new idea that the JV had to contend with was Mr. Didier, their first year basketball coach. He brought with him an uptempo style game and a Bobby Knight temperment toward the officials. Even though they finished, their district season with a losing record, they will be prepared next year.

The freshman boys had a steady, consistent season considering that this was their first year at the high school level. Pride and determination were among the key factors of this team. They tried not to concentrate on the losses but instead do their best and enjoy the spoils of victory. The freshman team finished the year with a winning record and the satisfaction of doing their best.

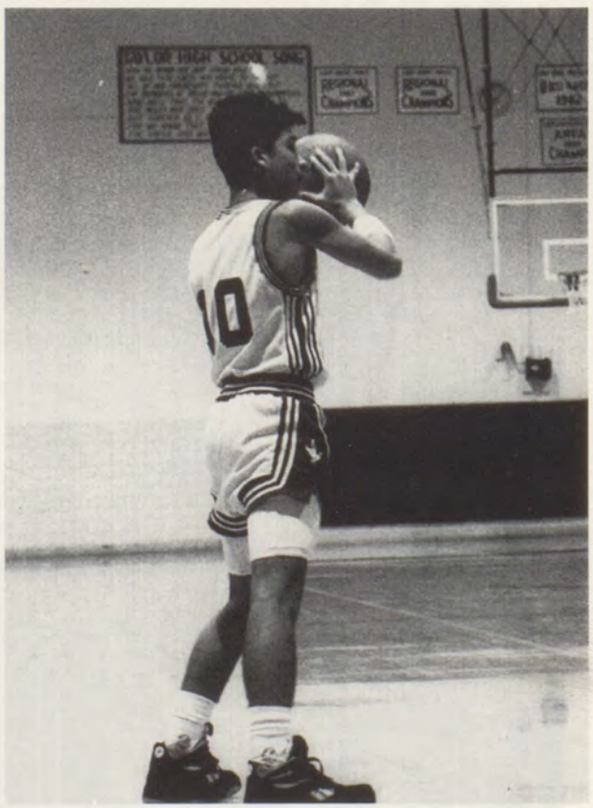

Looking at the total picture, it was a good season for the Freshman Lady Ducks. They used their abilities to adjust to the longer high school season and compete in a tough district full of state-caliber competition. Once the season ended, they tried their best in every game and represented the Lady Duck spirit impressively. Next year they will be ready to take a step toward the next level.

Sprint'in' in the Jungle

!Sprinting with style!

On your mark, Get Set, Go!! As the boys track team got set to go, they began their season with only one thing on their minds: making it to district track meets without any injuries. As you know, Taylor's track team has had only a limited number making up their team, but every year it keeps growing. Each member of the team plays a key part in getting a place in district or in any other meet for that matter. This year they have placed in many field and running events. We have some of the best pole vaulters, sprinters, discus and shot throwers, long and triple long jumpers in our district and they deserve the recognition. This track team consists of many great athletes that will one day be recognized for the many records they have set or broken. I think one thing they will remember the most is that feeling of winning, and knowing that they worked so hard to get it. Congratulations to you all.

Runnin' through the Jungle

Up and running, the Lady Duck track team competed in many track meets and advanced to district where they began their stiffest competition with some of the greatest women athletes of our district. Yes, they did have stiff competition, but they succeeded with the dedication of the long, hard workouts they went through, and the spirit that kept them going. Through the rain or the cold, the Lady Ducks gave it their all. That is what got them where they are today. Each and every one of them have great sportsman attitudes which are shown when they participate in sports such as track. They always showed smiles even when there were let downs. This women's track team was awesome. They succeeded every goal they set. They went through many tough times due to limited people making up the team, but they got through it and went on to do what they do best. They were a big part of the track team, and they will continue to be next year.

BOUNCIN' AROUND

As the Taylor tennis team completes another successful year, there are many memories for the players, from playing all bundled up in freezing weather in Kerrville to riding in the Coach's "hoopty" car to Mason. Once the Taylor tennis players stepped onto the courts, they turned their concentration to the serious job of competing for both individual and team honors.

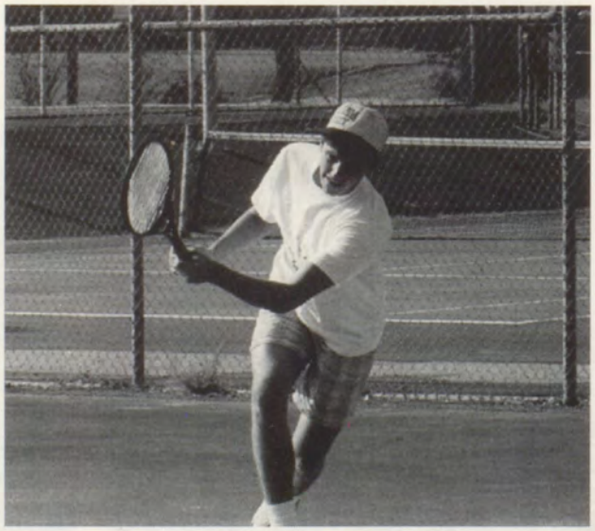

This is reflected in the accomplishments of the 1992-93 team. Beginning with team tennis, Taylor beat both Georgetown and Leander in a tough playoff tournament to finish second in district play and qualify for Team Regionals in San Antonio. Although the team did not advance to State, this was Taylor's second consecutive year to play in regional competition.

The cold winter months, along with tournament delays due to rain, limited the amount of practice for spring tennis. Still, the members were ready to compete on any court and were anxious to make their presence know in district play.

In the end, the doubles teams of Terry Zrubek and Augie Ramirez, Bethany Carlson and Brooke Briscoe, and Kristen David and Monee Reichenbach won a trip to Regionals, which were again held in San Antonio. To add to the success of Taylor Tennis, Kristen David and Monee Reichenbach earned the opportunity to play in State Finals in Austin.

The Taylor Golf Team had a spactacular year! Our golf team has improved so much since last year, it's amazing! Even though, the team had fewer players, that didn't stop the "Fighting Taylor Ducks" from winning.

The guys had a great year. Daniel Bachmeyer and Mason Miller were elected to be on the All District Team. Unfortunately the girls team has been short on members. We had one spectacular player, Tracy Dominguez, which makes up the girls golf team. Tracy was elected to be on the All District Team and also went to the Regionals tournament in San Antonio.

TAYLOR

Overcoming the record set by last year's baseball team was not going to be easy for this year's team as they lost many starters. Determined to overcome all obstacles, however, the men pulled together and each one gave it their all. Playing with a team where few members had seen varsity playing time wouldn't be easy, but the key to success was determination, and the Taylor High School Varsity team was determined to overcome the lack of experience. Under the leadership of the coaches and experienced players, the team fought to maintain the winning tradition of all Taylor High baseball teams. Although the season was not as successful as all had hoped, the team will be remembered for its ability to fight hard to the end and never give up on its goals.

SCHOLARS on SAFARI

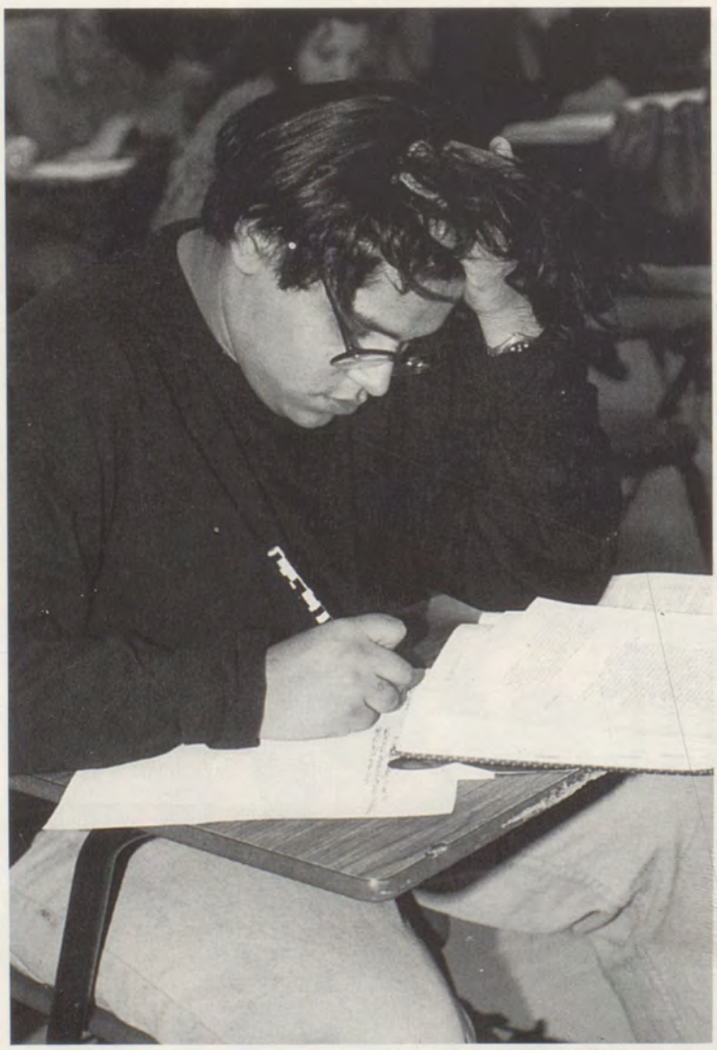

ENGLISH

Even in the jungle, we animals must know our English and grammar. Hi! I am Georgie the Giraffe. This year, we strived to pass that TAAS writing section and to sharpen our leaf-eating skills. The freshmen studied Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet; the sophomores revived Julius Caesar, and the seniors analyzed Hamlet and Macbeth. The juniors looked back to the time of The Great Gatsby when the flappers rebelled and jazz ruled the music scene. Poetic talent emerged in many students, and exquisite essay writers were born. This year proved to be fruitful in supplying our English scholars. As for me, Georgie Giraffe, I plan to attend Giraffe U to study English. Even as we exit the jungle, we will carry our knowledge and love for English wherever we may roam.

SMATHI

Thanks for that lovely tour of the English department. I'll take it from here. I'm Elliott D. Elephant, and I'll be showing you through Taylor High's awesome math department. Feel free to ask questions because math is a tough subject, but please hold them until the end. Don't be afraid though because, I'm here to help you.

As you walk through the halls of THS, you will notice the interesting array of math courses offered. We offer courses to fit any schedule. Pre-Algebra, Algebra I & II, Geometry, Pre-Calculus, and AP Calculus are just a few. Any questions so far? If so, just contact one of our friendly and enthusiasic math department personnel.

SCIENCE

Allow me to introduce myself. I am Dr. Ima Smart, Ph.D., M.D., B.S., A.B.C., and I have a Masters in Science at Taylor High School. My calculations show this year's science classes proved to be challenging among the Mallard species. Quiz grades remained directly proportional to the students' study time.

More fascinating than that, Chemistry II and Biology II emerged in the great pool of scheduling. The input of such challenging courses nulled the Law of Conservation of Homework. Even though scientists concur that homework turns ducks into a more civilized species, a phenomenal amount of time was devoted to decreasing its spread this year. Unfortunately, it still became an epidemic.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Why do we take social studies, economics, and government, you ask? To learn of course, about our world; who and why we fought in battles to get where we are today, and to better understand how our government is really running our country.

From tests to section reviews, we will always carry a bit of historical knowledge with us, like the names of Columbus' three ships (The Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria).

No matter which history teacher we had, Mr. Pool, Mr. Crow, Coach Cole, Mr. Muniz, or Mr. Terrazas, we definitely learned something about our country's past, (Did Columbus really discover America?) so maybe we can better our future.

VOCATIONAL

Welcome to Koala Walla land! Here we have the opportunity to not only get an education, but also to earn extra money. We koalas get the experience we need to work in the job fields of today while preparing us for the future. We have the chance to work in a variety of fields ranging from automotive repair to office administration. As part of a vocational class, all of us koalas are allowed to join Business Professionals of America, ICT, DECA, and HECE in which we all have fun together. We all work hard typing, filing, selling, and repairing to help us get what we want in that jungle out there. Through contests and parties, we share a common Koala Walla land goal: to earn money for eucalyptus trees that just don't grow around here.

ELECTIVES

Choices! Choices! Choices! Choices! Why is it so hard to find extra curricular activities to fill up your day? It's probably because there are so many choices to choose from. You have extra curricular activities such as athletics, art, office aide, counselor aide, and foreign languages, such as Latin, German, and Spanish. You can also take regular extra curricular classes such as typing and physics. These electives can be taken to help you with your future careers.

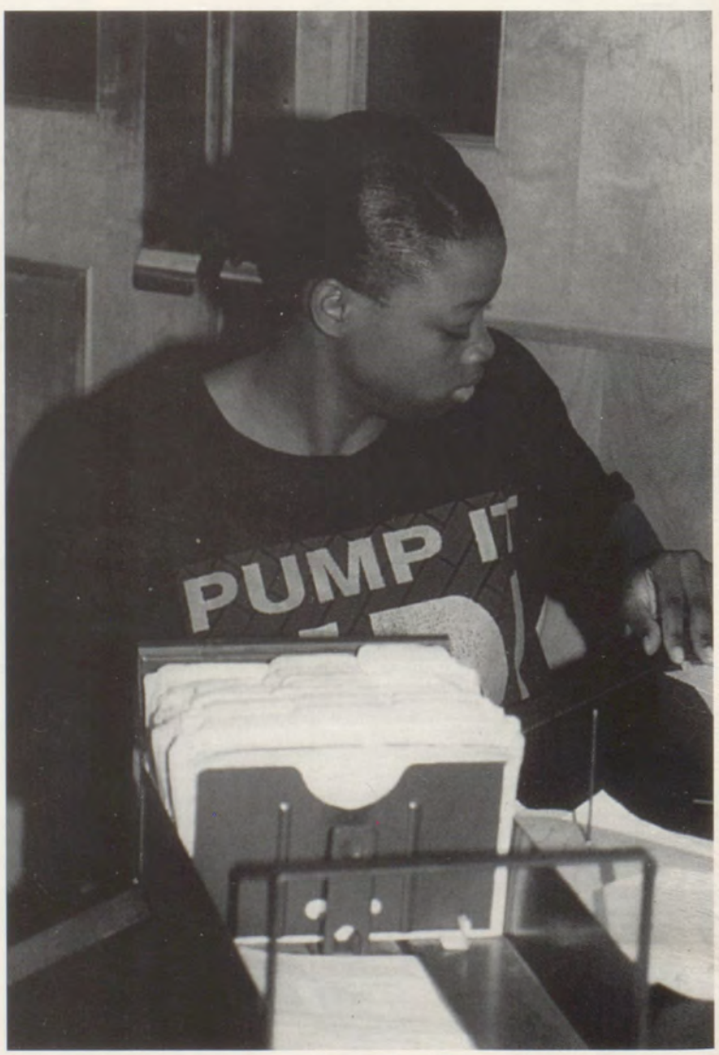

Electives give students choices to consider for learning more skills that may be put to use when high school days are over. Electives are a very important part of your high school years.

Honor Above All

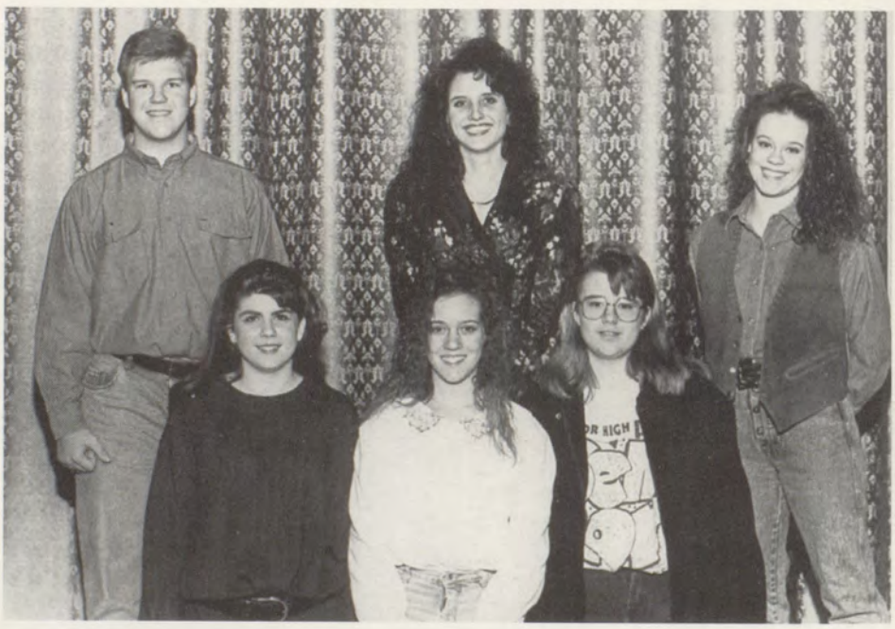

Academic excellence, leadership, character, courtesy, and service are some of the qualities that members of the National Honor Society must possess. It is a distinct honor to be selected for inclusion in this prestigious academic and service organization. Nomination by a teacher is required and standards for admission are tough. This year, twenty-eight new members were inducted into the organization, bringing the total number of members to sixty-four.

Various fund raisers and service projects were undertaken during the year to support NHS scholarships and aid the community. The major fund raiser this year was the varsity football concession stand. Members also collected coats for the needy, provided Christmas toys for less fortunate children, and served at the Taylor Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The year proved to be a very successful one of which all members can be proud. Leadership and service were exemplified by our organization. At graduation, thirty-two seniors proudly wore their NHS collars to signify their continuing roll as leaders in service to a broader world.

THE INTELLECTUAL EVOLUTION

What do dirty buses, big guns, exploring caverns, coloring fractals, Wendish noodles, braille writing, and world peace have in common? To a select group of students here at Taylor High, they represent all the fun G.T. students have had learning bits and pieces of enlightening knowledge in ESPRIT classes throughout the year.

Lignite, lignite - That trip to Alcoa gave many G.T. students their first exposure to the fascinating world of coal-mining. Thank heavens they didn't have to wash the bus, though! Another favorite presentation ESPRIT found to be quite nourishing this year concerned Wendish noodle-making and egg-decorating. But by far the favorite of the female gender, Mr. Didier's friend Ryan's presentation concerning unity in diversity shed new light on "brotherly love". (Hey, we're all glad Ryan isn't our brother!)

ESPRIT provided interesting alternatives in education this year. G.T. students appreciate the opportunity to broaden their horizons.

Mu Alpha Theta was off to a bit of a slow start this year. However, matters fell together shortly, and we began to plan and decide on our fund raisers. After much thought, we decided to design a t-shirt for the members to purchase. The proceeds would benefit the group. We then held a contest with a cash prize to see if anyone could name the equations on the shirt. Not only did we make t-shirts, but this year we decided to bring back the ever-popular Mr./Miss Pageant, held April 29th in the auditorium. After a two-year absence the pageant was a huge success with several entries, including our winners: Laquishandapajama "Natalie" Jackson, Haystack Cherry, and Patty Cowchip. All in all, the year was a challenge for Mu Alpha Theta, but we were able to overcome all obstacles with just a little effort combined with a lot of hard work and fun.

Business Professional of America is an organization comprised of zany and fun-loving students. Although the organization is known for its business connections, the club also works to make each member feel special. Members are those who have taken office related classes or are a member of the Office Administration Coop. To create a closer bond among members, the club held a Christmas party at Dodge City Steakhouse. The group was allowed to visit and sing since they were the only occupants. At contest the group proved Taylor students ranked among the best in office skills, legal concepts, medical concepts, and financial skills. Walking away with nine state qualifiers ranked the Taylor BPA Chapter among the ranks of the high and mighty. From state contest, Taylor walked away with one national qualifier, Kim Holub, and two national alternates, Cheryl Janek and Leatha Jahn. Taylor Business Professionals of America soars high with well-deserved pride.

◄◄ "I bet you wish you could be in my shoes!" Senior Leatha Jahn says to the state audience on her national alternate plaque.

◄ "Look Mom, I won National Alternate!" Cheryl Janek says in surprise.

The Future Teachers of America had a busy, but exciting year. As a future teacher each member held the responsibility to lead and encourage fellow students and the community.

We had many opportunities to fulfill that task throughout the year. In December, we sponsored the Christmas door contest and wrapped presents for foster children. Each month, several F.T.A. members babysat at parenting classes.

In February, we sold carnations and attended the State Convention in Austin. This year's State Convention proved to be enjoyable and successful. We had a Miss FTA contestant who made the finals, and as a group, we won an award for "Top Ten Projects" of the year.

As I look back at the four years of FTA, I see how much our organization has accomplished and how our lives have been enriched through the experiences.

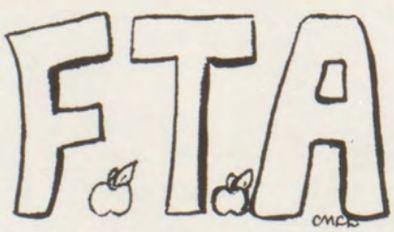

We seniors will miss FTA and wish all members and our two dedicated sponsors good luck and prosperity. And, one last phrase to live by: Learn something new each day and share it with others as you teach, or as you simply go on your way.

That Something Special

There's much more that goes into a play than merely memorizing lines and blocking, it must have that something special. That something special that only occurs in a blue moon when the planets are alined and pigs fill the air. Our casts this year possessed that something, that feeling. A tiny glimmer of that feeling of unity began as we worked on Greater Tuna, but when we reached Bus Stop that glimmer had evolved into a great fire, engulfing everything it came into contact with. That fire grew with the roar of applause we received at our first performance. Then it spread to contest as the singing and beautiful guitar playing that eminated from our dressing room intimidated the other casts. We realized that our waitress from lunch must have felt that flame too when she surprised us by coming to see us perform. Then.....KABOOM!!! The fire exploded as we gave our all in an awesome final performance, AND received THIRD PLACE! (A spectacular feat indeed!)

With the year nearing its close the fire cooled down, BUT no matter what happens we know in our hearts that that something special will never die out.

Science Club

Although the Science Club is only in its second year, it stands out as one of the active clubs at high school. To obtain funds, Science Club sold tickets for the Taylor Volunteer Fire Department. Each student who sold ten tickets was allowed to go to Port Aransas. Also to raise money, Earth Day t-shirts were sold. As part of a service to the community, Science Club helped plant trees. By far the most exciting event was the trip to Port Aransas. A two day, one night bus ride to Port Aransas was sure to instill fun in the hearts of the students. At the coast, students were to go off-shore on a boat to conduct research. Science club is definitely one of the clubs to become involved in at THS.

More than just water

SURF (Students United for Responsible Fun) was about more than just water this year. The member's goal was to help others understand that you can still have fun and be drug free. SURF sponsored many chemical free activities to keep students busy. During football season, Fun Nights were held at school. Students would play games and watch movies. SURF also held a MORP (backwards prom) dance. In addition, there was Red Ribbon Week. Members hung signs decorated with ribbons all over town. There was also Alcohol Awareness Week. During this week students were encouraged to dress according to the theme for the day. Such themes were: 60's Day, Prohibition Day, BYOB (Bring Your Own Boxers), Drugs Make Me Blue (Denim Day), and Sports Day.

SURF enjoyed a successful year and proved that we don't need drugs or alcohol to have a SURFin' good time!

It's a SURF thang!

A HARDWORKIN' BUNCH

This year, FFA and 4-H were extremely busy preparing for their annual stock show. Their animals or other projects had to be perfect in order to stand against such stiff competition.

After all their hard work and dedication, the results were evident in their performance at the Williamson County Livestock Show. Most participants did very well at the show and even advanced to the state level of competition.

FFA was also helpful for those planning to enter into fields of study such as horticulture, agriculture, welding or animal science. They learned the importance of careful planning and management, crop rotation, nutrition, and how to produce the best livestock and crops. FFA is definitely a hard workin' group!

HERO

HERO (Home Economics Related Program) is the HECE (Home Economics Cooperative Education) related club. Members are affiliated state and nationally.

By working half a day in restaurants, nursing homes, day care centers, and clothing stores, these students earned two things: credits needed for graduation and a little extra money. Working students also learned the skills of how to work with and how to care for others.

HERO has participated locally in competitive events such as food service, illustrated talks and job application/interviews. All winners were recognized at a Vocational Banquet.

Throughout the year, members have prepared materials for the local Cancer Drive and have also made cash donations to charitable organizations.

They have also had one fund raiser that helped finance dues and a field trip to San Antonio. A few members even adopted a resident of a nursing home as a project.

ART CLUB 92-93

Here in the jungle, people are surrounded by beautiful and often natural art. The forms of the animals, the colors of the trees and sky, and even the simple, pretty patterns of the raindrops on the sidewalks of the realistic concrete jungle of our school are art in various aspects. Not many of the students actually take time to pause and admire artwork in any forms. However, art compliments our world, bringing otherwise drab and dull objects to life. Students interested in art and eager to study or even just admire art on a deeper level, enrolled in art classes at school and had the opportunity to join Art Club. This year, Art Club was involved in many activities. Some of these were painting a mural on the snack bar walls, making decorations for the '92 Homecoming Assembly, and planning various field trips to art galleries and old cemetaries. Art Club was new, so we used our creative intelligence to form a productive club year. Remember, art is found in the eye of the beholder. Afterall, you don't have to be a famous artist to appreciate art to take part in Art Club's activities.

A strong vocational program is an important aspect of a well-rounded education. Many students decided to work in a number of various job situations this year. Not only is the vocational program a good way to earn extra money, but it's also a great way to get involved in the community outside of school.

Members of Distributive Education Cooperatives of America work at jobs that pertain to the sale of a product, service, or idea. They earn school credits while on the job. DECA students went to contest at Arlington where they competed in a range of events.

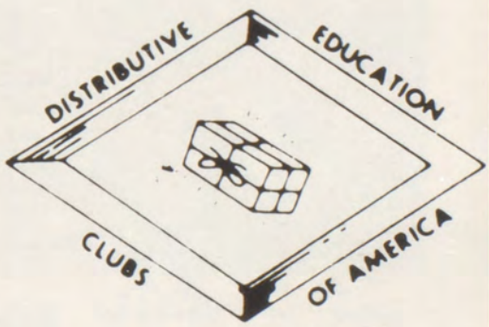

Members of Industrial Cooperatives Training prepare for employment in occupations classified as skilled or technical. This also includes some medical areas of work.

ICT and DECA both help prepare students for their careers and teach them to deal with people of various age groups. But, mainly these organizations provide a way for high school students to earn money and get a taste of the "real world."

A LITTLE Love Goes a LONG WAY!

Remember when you were in elementary school? The high school kids were your biggest heroes, whether you wanted to be a homecoming queen or a valedictorian. When you finally got to high school, you saw how much those little eyes looked to you for role models. In Duck PALs, a peer assistance program at Taylor High School, you get to see first hand just how much they admire their older friends. In PALs, we go to T.H. Johnson, Northside and Middle School to talk to students about their problems. The real reward of PALs is learning from the kids that you are teaching. These are great kids that have a lot of good things to say but don't always have someone to listen. In the PALs program, the kids have listeners, and we gain best friends. A little love definitely goes a long way (especially at McDonalds!).

STUDENT SENATE

We have the power!

Do you know how hard it is to keep this school working together? Well, these strdents do. This organization is called Student Senate. You may ask, what is Student Senate? Student Senate is a group who does a lot for Taylor High School as well as the Taylor Community. Each year at Christmas the Student Senate sponsors a Christmas tree decorating contest between the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, Afterwards these trees are given to families who don't have Christmas trees. Student Senate also delegates authority when it comes to showing the new coming fish around Taylor High School. They are also responsible for making sure elections such as Homecoming Queen, Class Favorites, and Mr./Miss THS go smoothly. Thanks to these students THS is a better place. These students make sure every event they sponsor runs smoothly and it usually does. You make THS what it is.

Leaps & Bounds

Every year a large group of people get to school WAY TOO EARLY, board a big yellow bus, and take off for wonderful Waco, Texas. Why?!? Not to visit the Branch Davidian Compound, I can assure you. These students are gladiators of the mind. Annually we enter the ring with Brutal Belton, Monstrous Midway, and Loathesome Leander, just to name a few. However, we transcend to new heights of excellence every year. This year was no exception. Not only did we have more participants than ever before, but we also received a record-breaking number of medals, even a few GOLD ones! Therefore, it almost goes without saying that each year we tackle the UIL Literary meet, we improve by leaps and bounds.

Every year the Cotton Boll tries to put out a unique paper with lots of news, entertainment, and sports possible! But this year we tried something a little different. In addition to the paper that comes out once a six weeks, a weekly bulletin was also added. This was started to help the student body become better informed of the most current events happening around school.

The paper wasn't the only thing Cotton Boll worked on. We participated in UIL and all of our participants placed. One member, Kim Bragg, was invited to attend a journalism workshop in Washington D.C.

Cotton Boll worked very hard to meet deadlines and to come out with an informative paper. From the beginning to the end — news, news, news was all we worked on, but someone had to write about the roaring Ducks!

...just like family YOUNG LIFE

Young Life — what is it? Is it a stage of growing up? Maybe so, but in actuality it is a fantastic organization. Young Life is a world wide organization primarily for high school-aged youths who seek an organization devoted to them. Young Life inspires people to lead Christian beliefs and lifestyles to improve and challenge them. Young Life presents activities and lessons in a caring, non-preaching way. It is up to the student to decide how involved he gets in the organization. There are no dues to pay, no requirements or discrimination, and no obligation to maintain. Young Life is simply an excellent group of people — students and adults alike — who get together once a week to share experiences, opinions, devotions, and dreams with one another. It creates a family-like atmosphere which makes everyone comfortable and want to come back for more. Some students go for the fun activities while others enjoy the Christian programs. Many find Young Life a way to express their concerns or ideas about Christianity without attending a church service. At Young Life people genuinely care about each other and are willing to stop at nothing to support and encourage young adults as they face a demanding and often confusing world.

This Joint Is Jumpin'

Choir was definitely jumpin' this year. In fact, we earned ourselves a trip to state competition by receiving a I for our pop ensemble performed to "The Joint is Jumpin". This year's group of students diligently worked together in fund raisers and in preparing for performances and competition. As a result, we achieved more than we ever imagined.

Misty Laurence qualified for All-District and All-Region choir while Keithon Gipson earned the opportunity to compete at state UIL. Many students performed well at UIL competition, representing our school and the choir outstandingly.

To end the year with a bang, we traveled to Galveston and Houston. We visited the Moody Gardens in Galveston and invaded Astroworld in Houston. We closed the year of exciting events with a Cabaret, "That's Entertainment", in which we performed numbers from famous musicals.
This year was awesome thanks to Mrs. Bartosh and all of the choir members. We seniors will greatly miss the choir, but encourage students with an interest in music to join the choir and make "this joint jump"!!

The Band

This year we were introduced to a lot of new things. New faces combined with a whole new attitude gave the "Mean Green Marching Machine" a new outlook. As football season approached, we had been practicing for about a month before the first game against McCallum. We then felt prepared enough to go up against bigger bands. We attended the district marching contest at Westlake. Although we did not receive top ratings, we came away from the competition knowing that we gave it our all. After marching and football season were over, we had Solo and Ensemble to prepare for. Nearly every student that attended the event came away with a perfect rating. Concert season approached fast. The three numbers that we performed at UIL concert contest required a considerable amount of time and effort to get them just right. Many long nights were spent practicing for our various contests. This year was an extremely special year. We took our annual trip to Nashville, Tennessee, to participate in a music festival held on the very famous Grand Old Opry Stage. This year required lots of hard work, but was very exciting and fulfilling. It was definitely one to remember.

Unleash the Spirit

Ready? O.K.!! And every game they were! Every time the cheerleaders ran onto the track, you could really see the spirit of THS! The cheerleaders were a great inspiration this year. Besides winning the championship at camp and going to national competition, they worked hard and always kept their smiles big and jumps high! They lifted our spirits at the football games and led in supporting our guys with cheers and yells at the pep rallies! You go girls, on the road to Nashville!

National Renown

A new vine grew for the THS cheerleaders. How did it all start? It took long hours of hard work during the summer. Summer Camp was great! We learned a lot of new material and how to work as a group. To top it off, at camp we came home as Grand Champions, with an invitation to go to Nashville for the International Open Cheerleading Championships. WOW! We worked long hours to raise the large amount of money we needed. We had to keep our attitudes right to make everything run smoothly. We finally made it to Nashville. We all got along as one big, happy family. Awards night came as we sat close, more nervous than ever, waiting to receive the good news. JV was ranked 10th in the state, receiving the Best Jumps Award in their category. Varsity ranked 11th in the state and won the Best Creativity Award. Looking back, all of the long hours of hard work paid off. Wouldn't you agree?

The Stepper Spirit

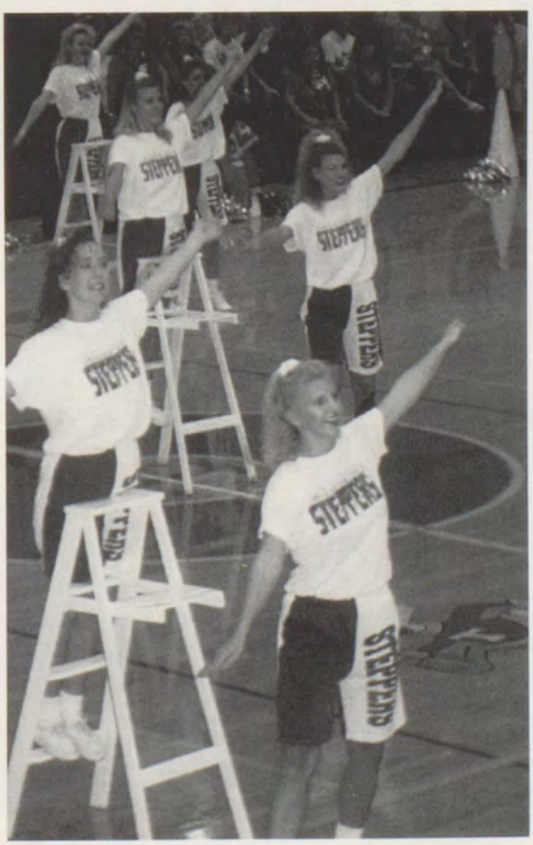

"Girls!! What is the dilemma? Get those kicks up, point your toes, SMILE!" We heard it every day at practice and by Friday night we always had it together. The kicks were great, the smiles big, and the crowd excited as the Steppers marched on to the field. Sometimes the practices got long and tiring, but in the end it always paid off. Especially when you heard the crowd's applause when you finished performing. Football season is an exciting time for the Steppers and one that the seniors will long remember. Every game was a lot of fun, even the one when it rained so hard! I guess that's what you call "mud ducks??" We had a great year and every routine was a hit with the crowd. It's a great feeling to be a part of the "Award Winning Taylor Hi-Steppers" and a memory that we will always cherish.

STEPPERS: First Row: Priscilla Olivarez, Jennifer Carnes, Laura MaCuk, Keri Marek, Kelli Dlouhy, Leatha Jahn, Stephanie MaCuk. YOU GO, GIRLS!

The Taylor Hi-Steppers made history at contest this year, bringing home eight trophies including Best of Show in all three categories, Judges award, and the 3 and 4A Grand Championship. This is a first in all of Taylor High's long history. Our superintendent even traveled all the way to Katy to see us perform, and it was well worth the trip! It took a lot of practice and hard work, but you could see as the Steppers marched onto the floor at contest that they were destined for greatness! All routines were performed perfectly and equally rewarded. The contest was a lot of fun and all of the work definitely paid off!

ELVIS SIGHTED AT TAYLOR HIGH!

Believe it or not, Elvis Presley is alive and well at Taylor High School! (Well, maybe not exactly), but at the Stepper Spring Show this year he was definitely with us. "Rockin' With Elvis", was the theme of this year's show. We even had a personal appearance by The King himself! The Steppers performed routines to Elvis favorites such as Jailhouse Rock and Burning Love. It was a great show and a big ending for the award winning Hi-Steppers of 1992-1993, and the last time for the seniors to strut their stuff. Elvis and the seniors of 1993 have now left the building.

SPRECHEN SIE DEUTSCH?

German Club at Taylor High School had proved to be an extremely interesting and enjoyable organization. Since the beginning of school, German Club members had worked hard to prepare for the regional German contest Sprachfest held at Southwest Texas and Houstonfest held at the University of Houston. Several students participated in events such as poetry reading, gingerbread house or t-shirt design, and even slide show competitions. All students did an excellent job in their categories; a few even advanced to the state competition.

German Club is not all work, however. At the beginning of the year, the organization went on a field trip to Fiesta Texas where the students were able to enjoy the excitement of the amusement park and learn about German tradition in a small section of Feista Texas called Deutschland.

This year was a fun and eventful year for the THS German Club. Hopefully, next year will be as wonderful.

This year Latin Club has been as busy as ever. Latin Club started off the year with the election of new officers. This year, a record number of students joined this foreign language club. Latin Club's first project of the year was to adopt foster children and purchase and wrap Christmas gifts for them.

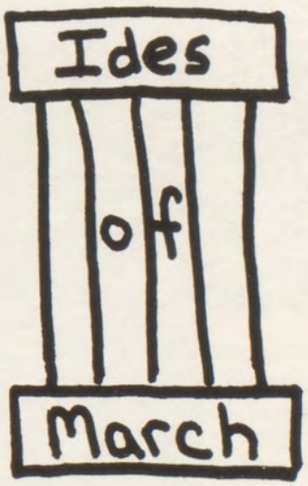

The club also sponsored the Ides of March display. Mrs. Schaefer's and Mrs. Tennill's Latin classes spent many hours of hard work putting together many well-made projects. Then it was time for Latin Club's annual year-end field trip to Six Flags over Texas. Everyone had a lot of fun on the rides and the bus trip home at 4:00 a.m. was also interesting.

Latin club's size will continue to grow as the years pass by, and it's traditions will go on. The club is an organization that is not only fun, but gives students the opportunity to help those less fortunate.

The 1993 Mallard Is Lovingly Dedicated To Velma Loeve for 37 Years of Dedicated Service To Our School

We'll Miss You!

Mike Caplinger resigned as Superintendent of Taylor Independent School District at the end of the 1992-1993 school year. Mr. Caplinger was a wonderful superintendent. We'll miss you, and we wish you well.

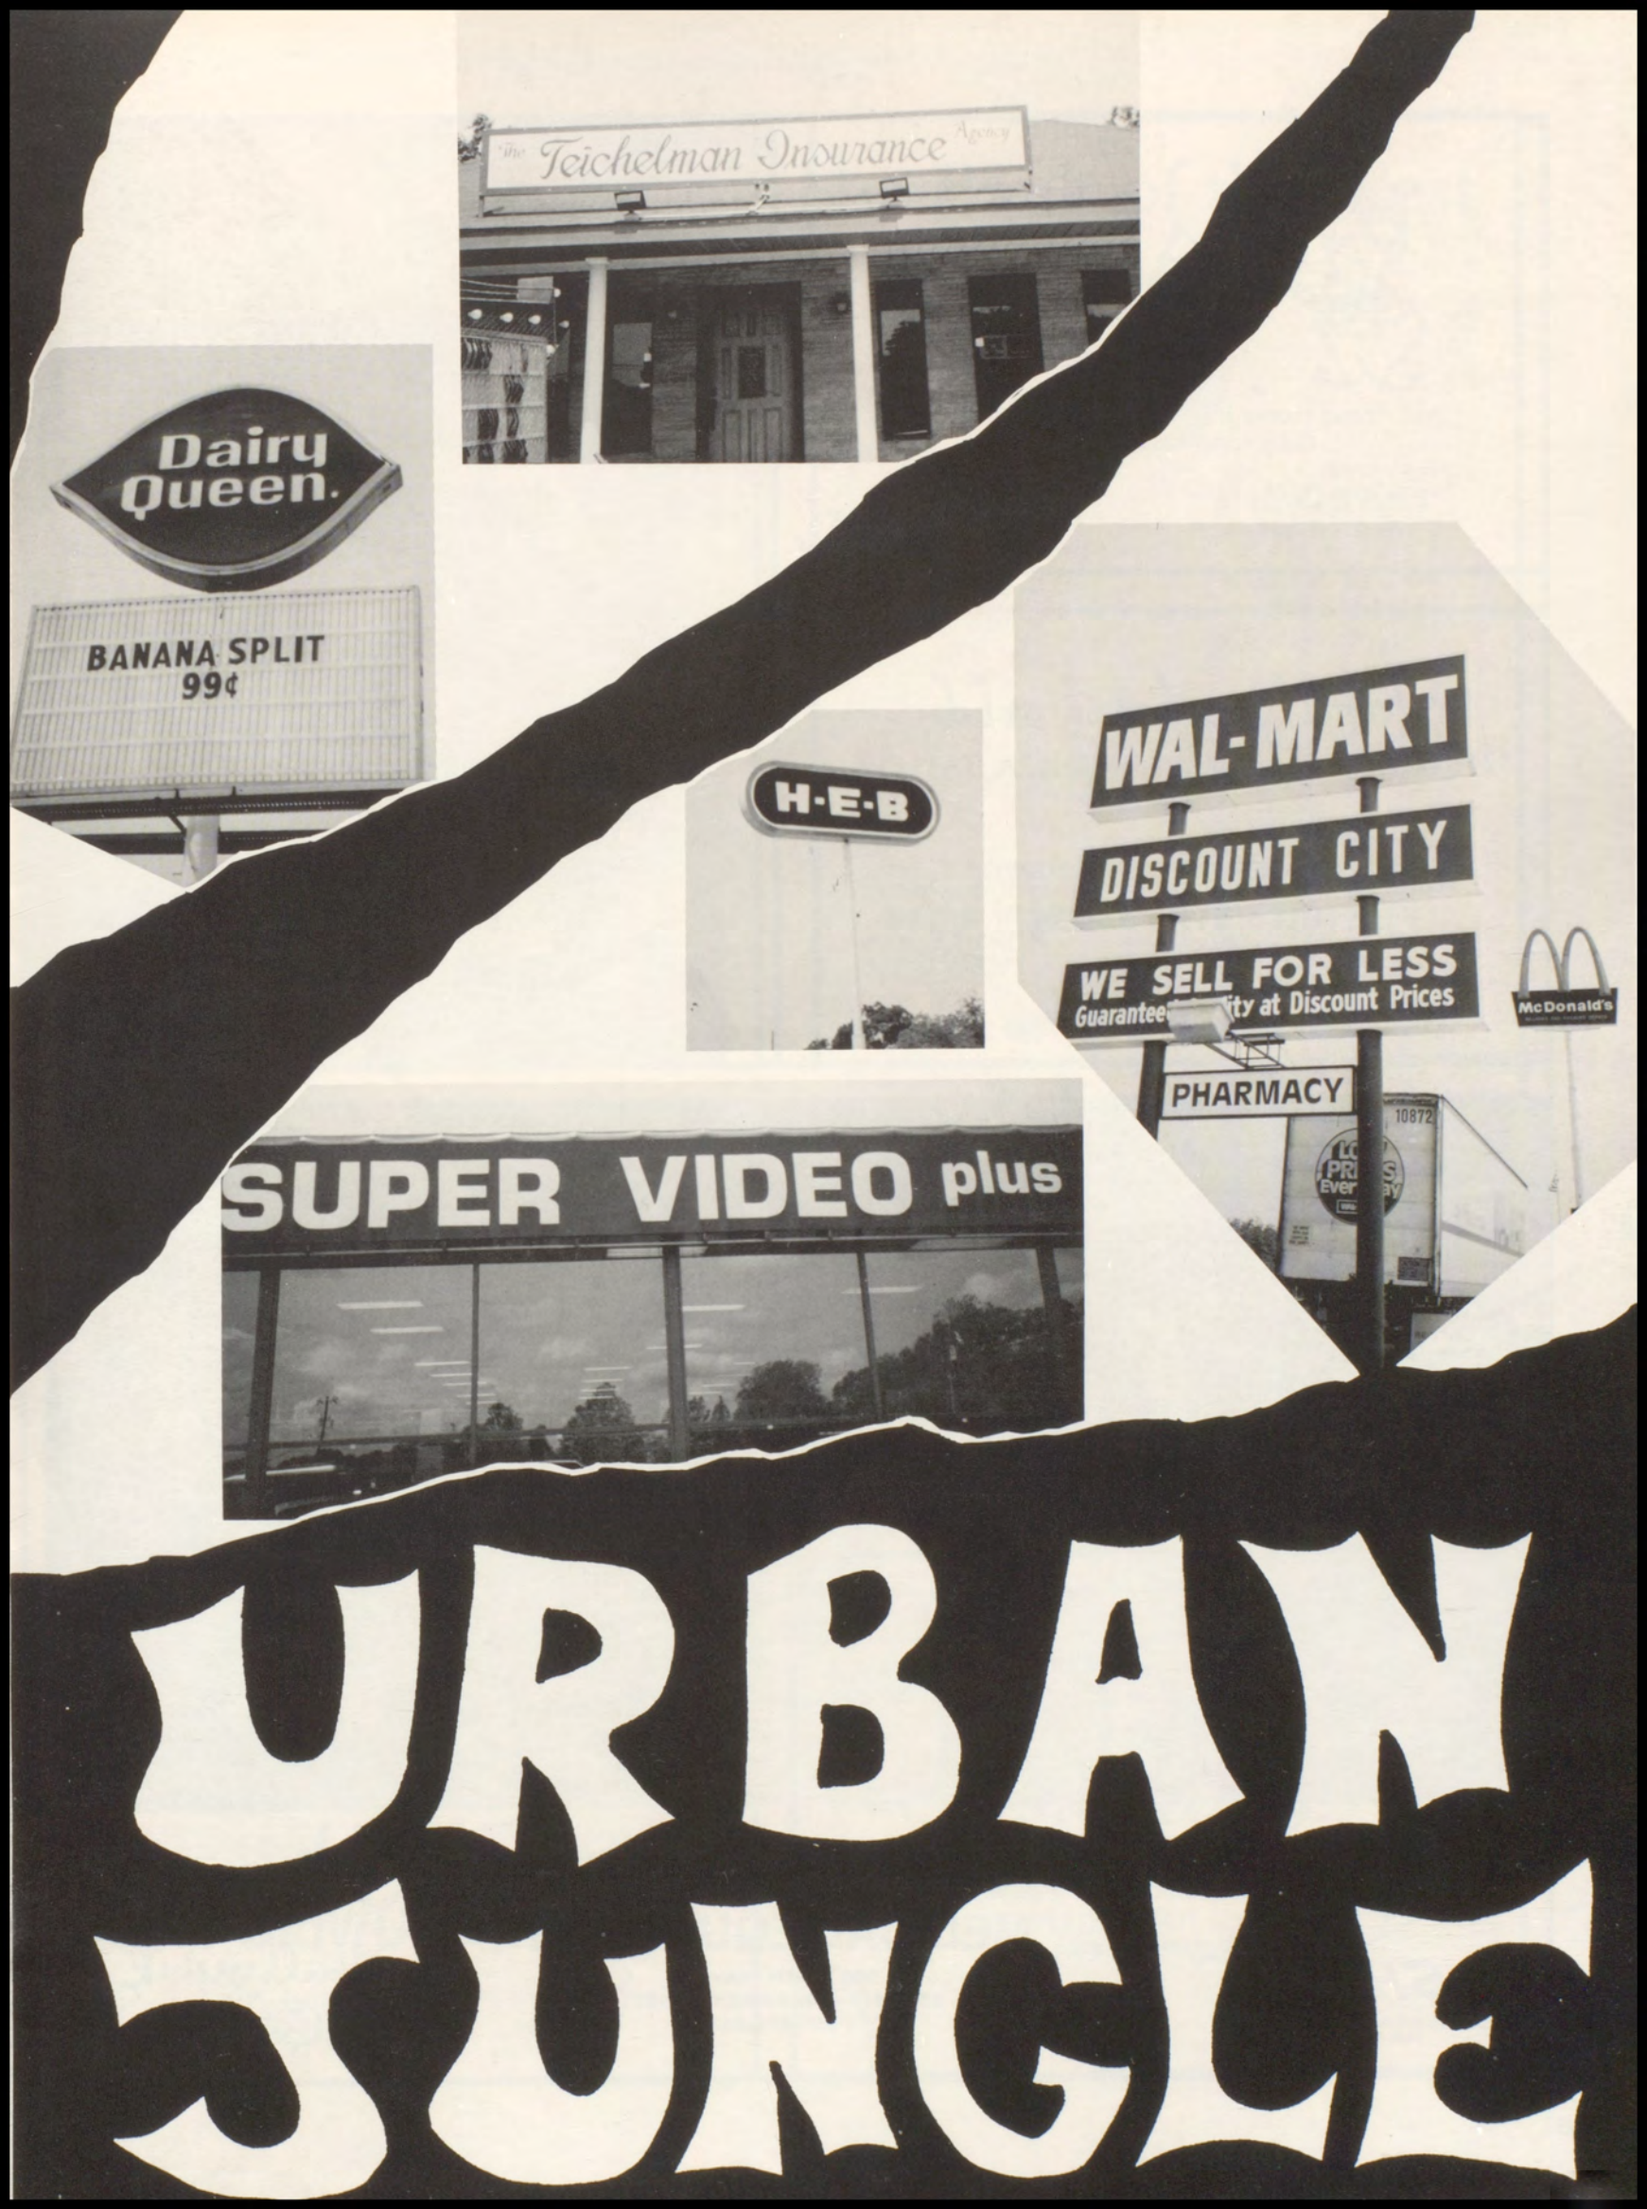

The Nickersons plan to enjoy retirement. Bobbie Nickerson retired from Taylor High School at the end of the year. She had faithfully served our school for thirty plus years. We wish you well, Mrs. Nickerson, but we will certainly miss you.

Velma Loeve retired as secretary to Mr. Ruthven. She has served our school faithfully and has done an outstanding job in the office. Miss Loeve, we hope you have a wonderful retirement, and thanks for everything.

Thanks So Much!

Congratulations Misty and The Class of '93!

One BIG Happy family!!

Working close together everyday (with the same people everyday) is often difficult. But you have to learn to overcome diversity in order to get the job done. Here's how it worked. First we had our sponsor, Mrs. Priscilla (Yearbook Queen) Parsons, and her loyal editors, Anna (Oh My Gosh!!) Riggs, Marsha (Don't shake the table!) Kokes, and Kelly (go kill) Griffin. Next, and just as important were our photo editor, Catherine (What pictures?) Raesz, and our business manager Cheryl (I'm going crazy) Janek, who was also computer editor. Others who helped put this book together were Bradley (I DIDN'T ruin the film) Hargis, Vanessa (I Quit!) Mokry, Josh (What am I supposed to be doing?) Doering, William (I can't find the pictures) Jackson, Leatha (What does ICT stand for?) Jahn, Wilbur (It's almost done) King, Karla (I need ACTION PIX!) Potts, Heather (I'll help) Rhoades, Jennifer (What's a layout?) Hubble, Leslie (I want my day in the darkroom!) Blackmon, Jennifer (nothing in this deadline) Carnes, Carrie (take pictures!) McDonald, Kimberly (other business manager?) Holub, Monica (Did I have that spread?) Luera, Monee (It's finished) Reichenbach, Kim (Look at this magazine!) Kropp, Misty (When's the choir spread due?) Laurence, Bethany (Take a picture of my car!) Ball, Sarah (I'm leaving) Kunze, Ruby (I'll take pictures!) Torres, and finally Jason (COLLEGE DAY) Davis. Our office is located at 3101 North Main in Taylor, Texas. Taylor Publishing Company prints everything when we are finished with it, and Jim Anderson is our head man. They will print 350 of these 192 page books on 100 lb. paper. Special thanks goes to the Taylor Daily Press, Billy Berkenbile, Mr. Ruthven, Mr. Bartosh, Mrs. Potts, Mr. Caplinger, the School Board, Cotton Boll Staff, and the THS faculty. Here's the book guys. We're proud of it. We hope you are, too. Thanks, Mrs. Parsons, Anna, Marsha and Kelly.

▲ ► Merry Christmas!!Jennifer Hubble and Jason Davis show off the Christmas tree.

 Layout and Copy by Anna Riggs.

◄ One Big Family: The 1992-93 Mallard Staff :Bradley Hargis, Cheryl Janek, Leslie Blackmon, Vanessa Mokry, Jennifer Carnes, Josh Doering, Catherine Raesz, Anna Riggs, Carrie McDonald, Misty Laurence, Karla Potts, Heather Rhoades, Sarah Kunze, Jason Davis, Bethany Ball, Marsha Kokes, Kim Kropp, Monee Reichenbach, Monica Luera, Leatha Jahn, Jennifer Hubble, William Jackson, Wilber King, and Kim Holub. Not Pictured: Kelly Griffin.

▼ We could do this! Cheryl Janek and Vanessa Mokry listen to Mrs. Parsons give instructions.

◄ ▼ 1992-93 Editors: Anna Riggs, Marsha Kokes, Kelly Griffin, and Catherine Raesz

Jungle Book Makers!

▲ What's wrong with the underneath side of this table? Marsha Kokes, Josh Doering, and Bethany Ball observe old gum.

◄ I can't crop this picture! Jason Davis has deadline stress as he tries to complete his spread.

HEAR US ROAR

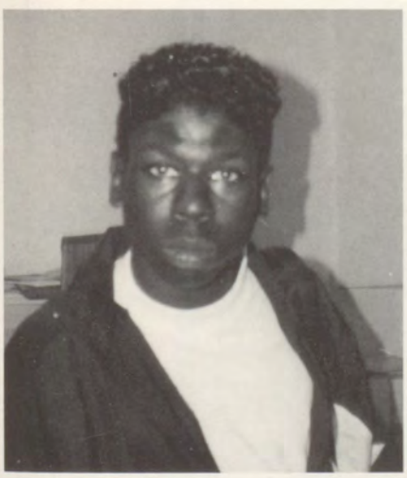

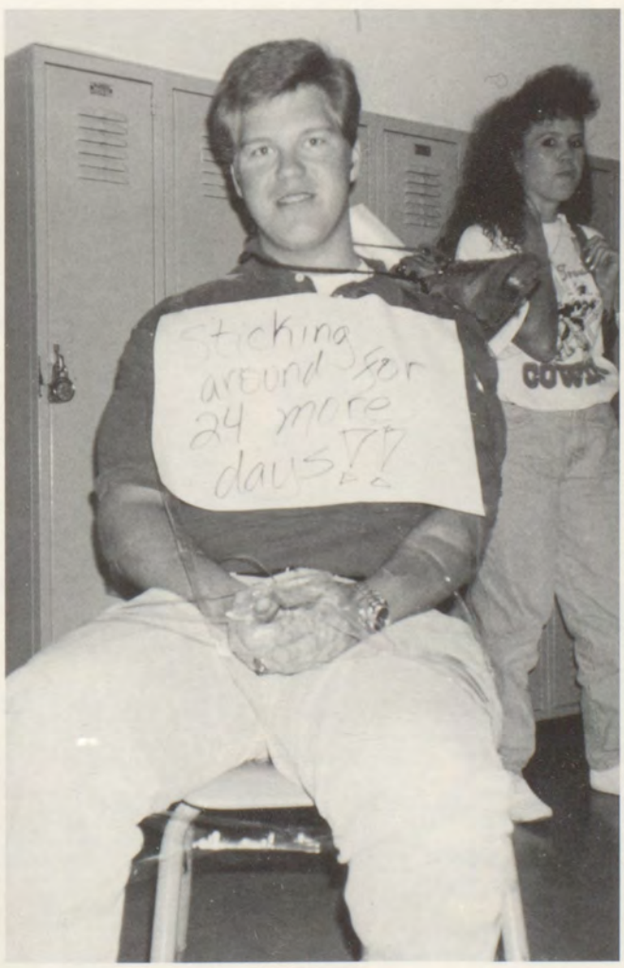

So book-lookers! How you like the Mallard this year? Me love it more than ripe bananas. Me so thrilled to be part of it, that me like to thank three large-haired Wahinis for asking me to lead you through the yearbook. Jungle Duck hopes that you made it through the year without falling out of any trees, or eating any wormy jungle fruit, or flying through the air on any broken jungle vines. Me try my best to be good leader for yearbook-lookers so if you did do any of these things. . .Please, please, please don't blame me. Me tried to guide you the best me could through this book, so if you go back to the beginning and start all over, maybe you'll find where you goofed or disobeyed the laws of the Jungle. The Wahinis did an extraordinary job, "With the help of Jim Anderson, our publishing rep."
